

Hitler Regime Turning Eyes To Far East as Trade Outlet

Germans Ask About Prospects in Philippine Islands

BUILDING SHIPS Reich, Japan and Italy Show In- creased Sales

Washington—(AP)—Guarded German inquiries on commercial prospects in the Philippines produced official speculation today whether the Hitler regime was eyeing the Far East as well as South America as a trade outlet.

The most recent inquiry, made by a business man described as influential in Nazi trade councils, caused government officials concerned with Far Eastern affairs to scan late commercial reports. They learned:

Germany, along with Japan and Italy, shared last year in increased sales to the Philippines, despite the islands' free trade ties with the United States.

Germany is building a second new ship for the Philippine government. Italy is constructing two commercial vessels for inter-island trade.

Add Fast Liners

Germany has increased materially its shipping links with the islands and the Far East generally, adding three of the fastest liners connecting the Orient with Europe.
Italy last year made a port of call for its liners.

Efforts have been made to organize Germans living in the Philippines into a bloc, as in other foreign lands.

Regardless of immediate intentions, some officials believe Germany hopes to make future heavy trade gains in the island and the Far East generally, by capitalizing on political friendship with Tokio.

Japan has made no secret of the intention to dominate the Orient at least commercially, and already has nibbled at Philippine-American trade in advance of the independence which congress voted to give the Philippines in 1946.

The 16,000,000 or more Filipinos enjoyed prosperity last year rivaling that of 1929. Exports totaled $176,445,688 and imports $109,000,- 000, a record favorable balance of trade for the islands.

Because of the free trade ties,
the United States continued to dominate, taking 79.82 per cent of all island exports, though supplying but 58.06 per cent of the Filipinos purchases abroad.

Pension Plan Means Increased Property Taxes, Mayor Says

Madison—(AP)—James R. Law, mayor of Madison and new president of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, charged today that the state has "again acted to increase general property taxes" through its order to bring out old age pension up to the equivalent of $30 a month.

Law advised all mayors and village presidents by letter to communicate with the state pension department to find out how much the order will increase their budgets.

The Wisconsin County Boards association said in a statement earlier this week the change in policy will cost the counties $2,400,000 additional during 1939, and that 42 counties have already reached their legal tax limit.

Mayor Law expressed the belief that many counties would take advantage of the statute which permits them to charge back the cost of pensions to towns, city and village governments. He said Madison's budget will be increased $45,- 000.

BABY FATALLY SCALDED

Stevens Point—(AP)—Florian Flees, 18 months old, died today of burns suffered when he fell into a pan of hot water being used by his mother, Mrs. Alois Flees, while she was washing floors at their farm home.

On The Other Hand

Helen Wood, screen star, conceived the idea of painting the letters of her name on the saves a lot of time and trouble, she claims, for when all very well for Helen Wood, but how about Danielle ters in her name? She would certainly be overplaying her novel "calling card" idea.

PILOT IS HAILED AS HERO

Pilot Dave Hissong (right), who brought a transport plane to a safe landing at Montgomery, Ala., with flames lapping about him was acclaimed by the 11 passengers as the man who "saved us." Hissong, although burned on the hands and face, stuck to his controls when the plane burst into flames in the air and put the craft down on a dark, strange field. His co-pilot, C. R. Russell (left), remained beside him.

British Soldiers Restoring Calm After Thirty Months of Arab-Jew Strife in Holy Land

Jerusalem—(AP)—Comparative calm reigned over this Holy city today after 30 months of continuous Arab-Jewish turmoil and bloodshed.

Without the loss of a single British life, British soldiers completed cleanup operations by reconquering the old section.

This drive ended 24 hours of steady military efforts to eliminate nests of rebellious Arabs who had held the old city for four days, and was a prelude to the larger task of crushing a revolt throughout Palestine.

The campaign caused nine Arab deaths and injuries to 18 others. Two foreigners were killed.

Six Persons Die In Fire Tragedy

Probe Charges of Incompetence and Incendiarism in Pennsylvania

Emporium, Pa.—(AP)—The deaths of six members of a nearby CCC camp in a series of intense forest fires brought a federal-county investigation today of reports of incendiaryism.

Gilbert Mooney, 33, of Ridgway, a clerical employee at the camp, and four of the 20 boys he led into the tinder-dry, desolate wilds of second growth timber and scrub-land, were trapped late yesterday by a circle of flames and burned to death.

Colonel C. L. King at Indiana, Pa., district CCC headquarters, identified the dead boys as:

Basil Bogush, 19, Conemaugh,
Pa.; John Boring, 18, Johnstown, Pa.; Howard May, 16, Erie, Pa., and Andrew Stephen, 18, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Ross Hollibaugh, 18, of Rimersburg, Pa., died of burns in the Renovo hospital today.

District Attorney Edwin W.
Tompkins said his investigation was designed to establish "the truth or falsity" of reports he heard that the CCC boys had been rushed into the flaming inferno without proper supervision and that four fires had broken out within an eight mile area entered by the doomed men under what he termed
"most unusual coincidences."

Washington—(AP)—Charles H. Taylor, acting CCC director, ordered an investigation today of the deaths of six civilian conservation corps members in forest fires near Emporium, Pa.

He instructed C. H. Kenyon, assistant to the director in charge of investigations, to make the checkup.
Kenyon will be assisted, Taylor said,
by investigators from the war department and from the department of agriculture which had supervision of the camp.

14 Jailed After Negro Terrorism

Move to Punish Those Implicated in Disorders
Following Slayings

Smyrna, Ga.—(AP)— Cobb county authorities moved swiftly and sternly today to punish participants in disorders here which followed confession of a Negro earlier this week that he had killed a farmer and his daughter with an ax handle.

Fourteen men ranging in age from 20 to 25 years were arrested yesterday and placed in jail at Marietta, county seat, and deputies indicated that other arrests would follow.

County authorities and leading citizens offered cash rewards for "conviction of those responsible for mob action which Monday night resulted in the burning of a Negro school house."

Several hundred persons again gathered in the streets Tuesday night, stopped passing automobiles and interurban cars, and beat several Negroes, until routed by tear gas fired by Adjutant General John E. Stoddard personally. Approximately 25 Negro houses were damaged by the demonstrators.

Funeral services were held yesterday for the couple killed, George W. Camp, 66, and his daughter, Mrs.
Christine Camp Pauls, 26.

The Negro, Will Drew Russell, quoted by Atlanta police officer as confessing the crime, has been placed in Georgia's new state prison.

Phillips Petroleum Named Defendant in Suit for $434,585

St. Paul—(AP)—The Phillips Petroleum company today was named defendant in a $434,585 suit on file in federal district court, alleging the company conspired with other large firms in Wisconsin to fix prices in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The Clark Oil company, Petroleum products jobbing firm, and the Plymouth Clark Oil company, Plainfield, charge the Phillips company with conspiring "for the purpose of artificially raising and fixing the tank car prices of gasoline."

The complaint names as conspirators the "Pure Oil company, Standard Oil of Indiana, Sinclair Refining company, Shell Petroleum company, Socony-Vacuum Oil company, Inc., Skelly Oil company, Cities Service Oil company and others."

The complaint also alleges two trade journals were involved in the conspiracy. They are the Chicago
Journal of Commerce and Platt's Oilgram, published at Tulsa, Okla.

Million Given Jobs Because Of Trade Gains

U. S. Economist Gives Estimates on Upturns Since June

WPA ROLLS HIGH Secretary Roper Sees Early Decreases in Relief Needs

Washington—(AP)—A leading government economist estimated today that business improvement since June has reduced unemployment by 1,000,000 men and women.

The economist, who declined to be quoted by name but whose figures are relied on by several agencies, figured there were 10,250,000 persons out of work in June and about 9,250,000 now.

On that basis, about one-fourth of the persons who lost jobs in the recession have been re-employed.
After reaching a peak of more than 14,000,000 in the spring of 1933, federal statistics show, unemployment gradually dwindled to 6,000,000 in the summer of 1937.

Then the recession boosted unemployment about 4,400,000 to a total of 10,400,000. The economist estimated season work last spring cut the total 150,000 by June.

WPA Rolls

While unemployment has been shrinking, WPA pay rolls have been rising. The lists went up from 2,- 806,000 to about 3,120,000—a record —at the beginning of October. Officials said this rise was caused by the fact relief appropriations were inadequate until new funds became available July 1, and then it took time to enroll those eligible for aid.

An indication, however, that the administration was looking to early WPA decreases was seen in a statement of Secretary Roper yesterday.
Roper, commenting on the General Motors recall of 35,000 workers and on other re-employment, said:

"It not only opens up the opportunity for self-reliance through private employment, but lessens the relief responsibility of the federal government and opens the way to improvement in the budget situation."

About $2,000,000,000 of the $9,000,- 000,000 budgeted for federal economies this fiscal year is for WPA.
The relief cost thus amounts to half the estimated $4,000,000,000 deficit.

Drunken Driver Fined $50, Costs

Kaukauna—Adam Rice, 43,

tive of 60 days in the county jail

Rice paid the Rice was arrested yesterday by

Movie Quiz Contest Is Ruled Out in Missouri

Jefferson City, Mo.—(AP)—The $25,000 movie quiz contest now being conducted in motion picture theaters throughout the country is a lottery in violation of Missouri laws, Attorney General Roy Mc-Kittrick's office ruled today.

Assistant Attorney General
Franklin E. Regan held that the three elements of a lottery—consideration, prize and chance—were present in the contest, adding "the fact of a lottery is not how adroitly worded the scheme is but how it works."

'Disbelief in Regimentation Is In Our Blood,' Beloit Head Says As Trustees Outline Principles

Beloit—(AP)—A declaration by Beloite college trust "pledged the college today to a four-point stand in principles, including allegiance to a government by consent of the governed, constitutionally expressed."

Asserting that "disbelief in regimentation is in our blood," Dr. Irving Maurer, president of the college, said the trustees Monday had drawn up the following declaration of principles:

"In an attempt to phrase the meaning and motive of Beloit college (the declaration reads), and to make articulate the faith and purposes of her founders to which we of today subscribe, we do hereby authorize the following as a declaration of principles:

"1. A Christianity unconstrained by nationalism or sectarianism.

formance steadfast against expediency or exploitation;

German Newspaper Warns Hungary Not To Demand Too Much

Berlin—(AP)—The foreign office mouthpiece, Deutsche Diplomatisch Politische Korrespon-denz, published today what was interpreted as a friendly warning to Hungary not to press for large slices of Slovakia.

In effect, it told Hungary she would have to accept the principle of racial nationalism—the basis for Germany's settlement of her Sudeten German issue with Czechoslovakia—and demand only territory predominantly Hungarian.

Thus, Germany is authoritatively reported to have put her foot down against Polish-Hungarian maneuvering for a common frontier at the expense of the Ruthenian section of Slovakia, the eastern extreme of Czechoslovakia.

$450,000 Asked in 2 Suits Resulting From Labor Fight

Attorney and Union Representative Start Court Actions

Superior—(AP)—Two suits, totaling $450,000 arising from a labor controversy in Gogebic county, Mich., in June, 1937, were filed with C. W. Bishop, United States court commissioner today for trial in federal court in Superior.

The actions are brought by a Duluth attorney, Henry Paul, who demands $250,000 damages, and Luke Raik, a representative of the Lumber and Saw Mill Workers' union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, local No. 2530 in Michigan. Raik demands $200,000 damages.

Named defendants are the Connor Lumber and Land company, Marathon Paper Mills company, P. M. Williams and secretary of the Marathon company, and Kenneth Allen and Duane Stetsil, alleged leaders of the Gogebic County Wood Operators association and vigilante organizations.

Charge Assault

Paul and Raik charge that while attending a meeting in Ironwood, Mich., on June 30, 1937, representing employees, timber workers and their organizations, they were set upon, assaulted, beaten and threatened with torture and death by Kenneth Allen and other members of the Gogebic County Operators' association, and of vigilante organizations associated with Allen.

The defendants violated the Lindbergh act by kidnapping the plaintiffs and carrying them from Michigan to Wisconsin. Paul and Raik contend. They declare they were subjected to pain, humiliation and intimidation during the alleged assault.

Paul contends that after he was beaten by clubs by a vigilante mob, and after being knocked down and while suffering from wounds and injuries he was dragged through the streets of Ironwood and then kidnapped.

Raik charges he was treated similarly, and that he was attending the meeting to ascertain facts for presentation to the N.L.R.B.
Defendants are also accused of violating the national labor relations act.

Priest Abandons Fast As Attendance Swells

Palmerton, Pa.—(AP)—The Rev. Lazar Kirichenko, complying with an order from his archbishop, today had abandoned an 18 day fast which started in the hope it would bring more young people to his tiny Russian orthodox church. The attendance at church services last Sunday was four times as great as usual and included a number of boys and girls.

The most Rev. Theophilus, archbishop of San Francisco and metropolitan American, commended the 46-year old priest for his "faithful strength," but directed him to break his fast "for the benefit of yourself and your health."

2 Gunmen Seize $2,000 In Holdup of Insurance Company Cashier

Chicago—(AP)—Two robbers shot and killed a policeman today and fled with $2,000 snatched from an insurance company cashier the officials are asserting.

Policeman John Olson, 45, was shot in the back three times and died shortly after he was brought to the Danish-American hospital.

The holdup occurred just after Olson and Harold Osmundsen, cashier in the Metropolitan Life Insurance company branch office at 3909 W. North avenue, had left the office for the Pioneer Trust and Savings bank, two blocks away. The trip was made daily.

Olson, in uniform, was walking several feet behind Osmundsen when one of the robbers rushed up to the cashier, pointed a pistol in his face, seized the grip containing the money and ran.

The policeman pursued him as the second robber, whom Olson apparently had not seen, fired at the officer and fled.

Witnesses described the man who shot Olson as about 25 years old, wearing a sweater and carrying an old nickel-plated revolver. The other was about the same age.

Callahan Would Close Small Rural Schools

Delavan, Wis.—(AP)—John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction, declared yesterday before the joint committee on education in Wisconsin that 500 small Wisconsin rural schools are operating on a financially unsound basis and should be closed.

"To date 525 rural schools have been closed in this state," he said.
"While there is no legal provision that decides how many students comprise a school, it is my conviction that a school with less than 10 students is not a school. It is a coaching institution."

Says Reds Try To Control or Wreck Unions

Prober Reveals Procedure Followed by Communists

TRAINED FOR JOBS Another Witness Thinks John L. Lewis 'In- fluenced'

Washington—(AP)—A house committee looking into the labor phase of un-American activities heard today that Communists try first to control a union and, if that fails, to destroy it.

The "rule or ruin" testimony came from Melvin Kells of Detroit, who said he worked with an Americanization committee of the American Legion in uncovering subversive activities.

"They wanted to create a struggle among workers and to sell the union out," he added, explaining that "they" were leaders of a trade union league in the Michigan auto manufacturing area.

Before Kells began testifying, Chairman Dies (D-Texas) said he was calling on the labor department to supply a list of deportation cases now pending. Dies said the committee proposed to "find out, if possible, what is preventing deportation of Communist aliens."

Submit Letter

Kells offered the committee a letter which he said the United Automobile Workers' union sent its members in December, 1934, instructing them to join other organizations with the aim of developing "class struggle in your shop."

The U.A.W. now is one of the major branches of the CIO. In 1934, Kells asserted, it was part of the trade union league, which he described as Communist "front organization."

When a strike was lost at a plant of the Briggs Manufacturing company in Detroit, he said, a Communist leader named Sylvester Sterowicz remarked that it demonstrated the "necessity of struggling and fighting and overthrowing the government."

Kells said, Communists were trained for work in the labor union movement at the Detroit Workers' school and that several instructors at the school became active in the union movement.

Cites "Influence"

Chairman Dies asked whether the CIO was compelled to a large extent to rely on men trained in the Communist school when it needed organizers.

"That's right," the witness replied.
James Mitchell, Detroit, formerly in charge of welfare activities of a local union of the United Automobile Workers, a CIO affiliate, told the house investigators that Communists apparently have a lot of influence on John L. Lewis.

He said Communists had "engineered" a sit-down strike in the Murray Body plant in Detroit in 1936 and 1937.

Chairman Dies asked him what efforts were made by responsible labor leaders to rid the U.A.W. of Communists.

"Homer Martin, president of the U.A.W.," Mitchell said, "tried everything in his power. But it seems they are on the inside of the international union. Apparently they have a lot of influence on Mr. Lewis."

Letters Link Suspect With U. S. Spy Ring

Addressed to Rum-rich and Signed
'Erich Glaser'

READ TO JURORS Witness Also Is Ques- tioned About Other Members

Milwaukee—(AP)—The "$30 every Thursday" movement has made its appearance in Wisconsin.

One hundred twenty-five elderly Milwaukeeans heard about the plan at a meeting last night under the sponsorship of Senior Citizens Security, Inc.

A campaign for 200,000 members each to pay a penny a day dues, was launched. The money would be used, said the speaker, to campaign in the next legislature for a bill to permit a $30-a-Thursday plan similar to that now being advocated in California.

William O'Keefe, who moved to Milwaukee recently from California, said the plan would be financed from the sale of 2-cent stamps which would be affixed every Thursday to $1 "warrants" backed by the credit of the state.

Warrants valued at $30 would be issued weekly to every unemployed, registered voter of 50 or over.

Michael D. Kelly, former county superintendent of schools, presided at the meeting.

"From this moment the campaign is on," Kelly said. "We want numbers and we want power. We will be ridiculed, but billingsgate and abuse can't stop us."

New York—(AP)—Letters tending to implicate Erich Glaser, former United States army private, with a German spy ring operating in this country were read before a federal jury today at the trial of Glaser and two other persons on espionage charges.

The letters were identified by Guenter Gustav Rumrich, United States army deserter who pleaded guilty to spy charges at the opening of the trial and became a witness for the government.

Glaser sat motionless as Assistant United States Attorney Lester C.
Dunnigan read the letters, which were addressed to "Rumrich and signed 'Erich Glaser'."

"Dear Gus," the letter dated Jan. 24, 1938, "Well, old boy, I suppose you'll be surprised to hear from me... Are you still among those living... Have you got any girls you don't need?... I think I'll save my say until I hear from you. I have some very (underlined) interesting things to tell you and I don't want to miss up on that...
Do you hear anything new from the old country?"

Asked About Visits

Dunnigan questioned Rumrich about visits he received from Karl Schlueter, an alleged messenger for the spy ring, and Johanna Hofmann, one of the defendants. He also asked Rumrich about subscriptions to the Army and Navy Register which the witness said Glaser obtained for him.

Continuing, Dunnigan said:
"You told us you wanted Glaser to furnish names of army and navy men of German extraction. You mentioned that he gave you the name of one Schmidt on the west coast. Did he give you other names?"

"He gave me the name of Zimmerman—stationed, I think, at Panama," said Rumrich. "I told him I have been requested by one of the agents who visited me to furnish names of men of German extraction in the military service. I suggested to Glaser it would be a good idea for him to renew his contacts with these people whom he had not seen for some time. He agreed. I remember I wrote a letter to Schmidt."

Signed Glaser's Name

Rumrich said he typed the letter, including Glaser's signature, and that Glaser told him he had written a letter to Zimmerman.
Rumrich said he had typed and sent a letter to a man named Fisher in Panama and signed Glaser's name, although Glaser did not see the letter.

Rumrich said he asked Glaser where the "Z" signals came from,
in Glaser's memorandum book and relating to communications between aircraft and ground troops.

"He told me," Rumrich related,
"about the book at Mitchell field found them in a radio procedure book." He said he might be able to get hold of it. He said in case he did he would like me to ask $100 for it."

Rumrich testified that Glaser turned over to him, without a request on his part, a list of coast guard stations in the United States.
"Once he told me," Rumrich said,
"that his outfit was scheduled to go into maneuvers in the south and that it would be a good chance for him to pick up something."

Aldermen Wonder What's Become of Official Notice

Request Mayor to Write PWA on $41,000 Grant
For New City Hall

Appleton's city council, faced only with routine business, last night began to wonder why PWA has not sent its official approval of the $41,- 000 grant to remodel Lincoln school into a city hall and to build a new police station.

The grant was approved by President Roosevelt and the PWA on Sept. 22 but no official notice to begin the project has been received here.

Alderman Franke opened the subject and spoke in favor of going ahead with the project. He said:
"We need a new police station and the fire department needs the room in its building. The mayor, I understand, asked PWA to switch the money to a new project on file. I don't believe the project is a direct benefit to all the people.
And what business George Schneider had to stick his nose in our business I don't know."

The mayor said, in his opinion, the paving project would be the best for the city because it would give more work to more men than the city hall project and "you're not going to raise the tax rate in Appleton to build a city hall we don't need."

Urges Action

Charles Debeck, agent of the Building Trades council, warned the council that it is a question of going ahead with the city hall project to turn to page 2 col. 3

French Workers Voice Ultimatum to Daladier

Paris—(AP)—The French government's strongly-organized employes warned Premier Edouard Daladier today they had decided on "action" if the cabinet attempted any longer to sidetrack their demands for higher wages.

This virtual strike threat cropped up unexpectedly as the premier sought to shelve temporarily his labor and financial problems and concentrate on strengthening his government.

Committee Urges Need for Research On Cut-Over Areas

Industry Can't Expand in Region Under Present Conditions

Madison—(7)—A need for more research on the technical and industrial resources available in the cut-over land areas of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan was stressed today by the northern lake states regional committee.

A subcommittee on mining, industry, transportation and power, headed by Milton P. Adams, Michigan, declared that no expansion of industry in the north country can be expected under present conditions.

Attention should be given, the subcommittee said, to the resources which are available. They include water power, minerals, peat and inferior woods.

One specific suggestion was that the cut-over areas be developed by replanting the forests, retiring submarginal lands to forests, encouraging tourists, giving special vocational education on forestry subjects and helping farmers who have reasonable prospects of becoming self-supporting by granting loans which will enable them to get more fertile land.

End Two-Day Session

The regional committee concluded a two-day session late yesterday after the presentation of four consolidated sub-committee reports forming the basis of a program for rehabilitation of the north country for which federal action will be sought.

A subcommittee on local government, taxation and grants-in-aid recommended that where money can be saved, the administration of roads, schools and even tax assessments be removed from township and district management and placed under county control.

It also proposed a consolidation of county offices, including health and welfare services.

There was a general agreement against any policy of mass migration of the population from the north woods on the ground it would only create a problem of supporting many persons elsewhere.

Proposals Listed

The subcommittee on agriculture, forestry, recreation and wild life made the following proposals:

That land use be classified, inventoried and regulated.

That policies of governmental bodies, especially federal agencies, be co-ordinated.

That attention be given to regulation of commercial forestry cutting, setting up standards for the recreation business, and cooperative marketing.

That numerous marsh areas drained for agriculture be restored and water levels maintained.

The subcommittee on employment, relief and rehabilitation declared that existing welfare agencies should be put on a permanent rather than a temporary basis and said there is a need for entire re-direction of some relief activities.

Power Resources Study

Among the finds of the various groups were these:

A new study of power resources is necessary.

Winter employment in the iron mines is penalized by the practice of assessing stock piles for taxation on May 1 before they can be shipped on the Great Lakes.

The policy of taking ore at its estimated value in the ground discourages companies from making further exploration for ore resources and should either be repealed or revised.

Further research is needed on copper ore deposits, building stone and peat in all three states.

Minnesota representatives suggested the federal government study the possibility of subsidizing the production of iron ores rich in manganese for possible future use in the event of war.

Given Permit to Build Warehouse

Lawrence College to Erect $4,000 Building Near Institute

Lawrence college today was given a permit by the city building inspector to erect a warehouse at 1101 South River street. Cost is estimated at $4,000.

The structure will be built on the east side of the paper institute buildings and will be used to store materials used at the institute. It will be 40 feet long and 30 feet wide. Seventeen concrete pillars will form the foundation and the warehouse will be of frame construction. Fraser Lumber company will do the work.

Ole Nymoen, 1505 W. Harris street, received a permit to construct a residence at 1503 W. Harris street. Cost of the building, which will be constructed of frame materials, is estimated at $3,500. It will be 22 feet long and 26 feet wide with a garage, 12 by 22 feet.

A permit to remodel a house at 601 S. Walnut street was given to Karl Schuetter, 103 S. Appleton street. Schuetter intends to rebuild the house so that it will house four families. Cost of the work is estimated at $3,000.

Ohio Girl Confesses Attack Story Is Hoax

Bowling Green, Ohio—(7)—Sheriff Arnold Isch said today 18-year-old Betty Gazarek of nearby North Baltimore has confessed her story last week of being abducted and attacked by two men was a hoax.

A widespread search had been made for the pair after Betty, her clothing torn, was found with obscene words daubed on her body in red paint. Isch quoted her as saying she made up the story to frighten her father, Steve Gazarek, because he refused to permit her to have a date.

Wiley Says Wisconsin Farmer Fought Bill to Subsidize Southerners

Stevens Point—(7)—Alexander Wiley, Republican candidate for the United States senate, declared last night that the Wisconsin dairy farmer has been "forced to foot the bill to subsidize the southern dairy farmers in direct competition to him."

"He has been forced to pay his tax money to aid others who are at war and who are getting his own market," Wiley said. "And he wants to know why."

"Why can't we get cost of production?" is the question being directed at the Democrats and Progressives today.

"What is the answer being given to them by the opposition candidates? The answer has been a series of personal attacks on other candidates, allusions to the integrity of other candidates, and a world of oratory on 'money bags' when the Democrats and Progressives have controlled the purse strings of every taxpayer for the past six wrong years."

You Have Finest School in Nation, Students are Told

Mayor Outlines Appleton's Struggle to Erect Building

"You have the benefit of attending the finest high school in the country," Mayor John Goodland, Jr., told students of Appleton High school Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium. "There may be bigger buildings than this," he added, "but there certainly are none finer."

Mayor Goodland recounted for his audience the struggles to get a new high school from the early days in 1911 when the Morgan school with its population of 450 students was termed "overcrowded" to the present. Since Appleton delayed constructing a new school, it has, however, one that is "right up to the minute," he pointed out.

Impressing his youthful audience with the fact that they are living in an unusual city, Mayor Goodland reviewed the efforts of the editors of Times magazine to find a representative city and their final selection of Appleton.

"We have no slums and no settlement district," he stated, "but we do have 20 schools, 24 churches, 10 parks covering 200 acres, a water works and filtration plant, a college, 5,000 home owners, and an independent market that serves over 80,000 people."

Edna Ferber, the novelist; Harry Houdini, the magician; and Dr. John B. Murphy, pioneer in surgery, were some of the famous citizens of Appleton which Mayor Goodland discussed. He also pointed out historic "firsts" for which Appleton has gained renown: The hydro-electric plant, now in the Ford museum at Dearborn, Michigan, which was constructed in 1882; the electric street car, which drew the attention of a circus audience from the performers in the rings to the phenomenon on College avenue in 1886.

A trombone solo by Myrtle Lecker, who was accompanied by Ellen Marty at the piano, concluded the afternoon's program.

Ekern Wants Larger Income for Dairymen

Hudson—(7)—Herman L. Ekern, Progressive nominee for the United States senate, said last night that "if the manufacturers can be made to see that they will profit in the long run by increasing the price they pay the farmer for his milk and reducing the prices to the consumer, a great stride toward prosperity will have been taken."

The first step toward improvement of the dairy business, Ekern declared, should be uncovering and breaking up by the federal government of any monopolistic control which may exist. Then, he continued, federal and state governments should aid in increasing consumption of dairy products.

"A substantial share of the resulting increase in the manufacturer's income should be passed on to the farmer in the form of larger payments for his milk," Ekern said.

Heil Says Government Is Not Serving People

Eau Claire—(7)—Julius P. Heil, Republican nominee for governor, declared in a radio address last night "It is imperative that every citizen of Wisconsin shall learn how far the state government has strayed from direction by the people, and how far it has departed from service for the people."

He said the special session of the legislature held last winter, "in which the rights of members were trod upon and rules torn to shreds, that when those in power at Madison sided with the representative government is cast aside."

"Promises of economy made by the present administration time and again have not been kept in a single instance," Heil charged.

"The outlook for work this winter in Appleton is not bright," Debenak said. The men are depending on the city hall project to get work this winter and you'll get half the money from the government if the federal government hadn't come through with projects in this area before you would have between 700 and 800 men added to your relief roll."

Alderman Steinhauser said "some one is gumming up the works and we sit holding the bag. What I want to know is what's holding it up?"

Alderman Brautigam suggested that the mayor write to F.W.A. to find out what has happened and that is what the council decided to do.

Duffy Justifies Funds To Check Depression

Shawano—(7)—Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Democratic candidate for reelection, asserted last night that "everyone will agree that the money which has been expended in the great war against the depression has been fully justified."

"The expense incurred in fighting the depression has been considerably less than the expense entailed during the World war," he said.

"It is true that the national debt has risen from approximately $27,000,000,000 in 1934 to about $39,000,000,000 at the present time."

"The rise in the national debt has been entirely due to the fight against the depression."

United States Is Deeply Concerned About Holy Land

Palestine in Danger of Being Taken From Jews

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—For several days now, the United States government has been expressing through diplomatic channels to Great Britain the great concern felt in America over events in the Holy Land. While the number of Jews in the United States is relatively small, the policy of the American government has been traditionally one of deep interest in any problem affecting human liberties for Jews and other groups abroad.

Thus, in the days immediately following the American entry into the World War, President Wilson, though anxious not to seem in any way to intervene in the internal policies of the British empire, found a way to express his belief that a settlement of the Irish question was a prerequisite to American national unity in prosecuting the war.

The true story of Mr. Wilson's interest in Ireland has never been revealed, but history in due time will learn that America's war president urged the very first steps which have since been followed by a wise policy in Britain with respect to Ireland.

So, too, did President Wilson find a way to express on behalf of public sentiment in the United States an interest in the setting aside of Palestine as a homeland for the Jews. The famous Balfour declaration, whereby the British agreed to accept trusteeship for Palestine, was in no small degree inspired by the informal views of Mr. Wilson.

Delicate Problem
Today, President Roosevelt is confronted with the delicate problem of keeping an American tradition alive. The Jews are being attacked in Europe, and, to add to their difficulties, Palestine, which was to be a haven of refuge, is in danger of being taken from them by a change of British policy. Restriction of the number of Jews who can enter Palestine has been undertaken already and this makes it difficult for the international committee on refugees to find a haven for the Jews who are being mistreated in central Europe.

The United States, of course, has a definite restriction on immigration of all kinds, so there is no effort likely to be made to change this policy. But the influence of the Washington government can be a factor in the other countries of the western hemisphere and also in amelioration of the treatment of Jews in Europe.

In the United States are many large minorities. Thus, there are more than 6,300,000 Germans and more than 4,500,000 Italians, and, when delicate questions arise in the relations between Germany and the United States or Italy and this country, there is always a strain which produces all sorts of embarrassments.

American Unity
American unity is a desirable national policy, and, when internally there is friction due to developments abroad, it is customary for American officials to point out to the offending governments abroad that the United States has a deep interest in maintaining principles of humanity and fair treatment.

Unfortunately, there are many persons in the United States who do not immediately see the implications of a domestic situation in which the former homeland of one set of citizens is doing grave injustice to the friends and kinsmen of another group of American citizens. To preserve harmony inside the United States, the national government here is aware that the first remedy must be applied in the policies of other governments abroad.

Treatment of the Jews, like the questions arising out of the treatment of the Irish by Britain, are viewed by some persons as external matters, but gradually they become internal problems, too. That's why President Roosevelt, standing on the same humanitarian ground as President Wilson, is endeavoring to find a way to secure a modification of those policies abroad, which, if unchanged, cannot but affect America's relations to Britain, in the case of Palestine, and Germany, in the case of fair treatment for Jewish minorities.

When Dewey Attacks Roosevelt The Speech Has Some Sense to It

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
Washington—What I have been trying to report about the attempt of some of the new Republicans like Dewey and Bruce Barton to get out from under the curse of the Republican party's past and to meet the Democrats on a footing of equal intelligence is illustrated perfectly by two Republican speeches made on the same night this week.

One was by Hoover, speaking in Hartford, Conn. The other was by Dewey, Republican candidate for governor of New York. Both of these Republicans were attacking the Democrats. Dewey's had some sense to it. Hoover's was a warmed over mumble of the same old phrases that we have heard about Roosevelt for six years.

It is unnecessary to quote from Hoover's speech, you have heard it hundreds of times, from Hoover, Al Smith, and Liberty League speakers, the stock record which has been played over and over until it now emits only a dull, flat croak. Roosevelt is attacking our liberty. Roosevelt is giving us creeping communism.

Dewey was charging Governor Lehman's New York state Democratic administration with negligence in pushing housing reform. For six years, he said, the state had done nothing. As a result the federal government had stepped in to do what needed doing.

There Dewey put his finger on the explanation of Roosevelt and the New Deal. We have them not because somebody wants to be a dictator. We have them because neither private enterprise nor the states did the things that cried out for attention.

Dewey spelled it out clearly with relation to housing. "Faced with a complete default by the great state of New York in the handling of the most difficult housing problem in America, the federal government took charge. Many of us have long been disturbed by the increasing concentration of power in Washington. It has grown at a rapid rate through the last few years. Let there be no mistake. This centralization with all its dangers will continue unless there is a revitalization of the states and unless the states are energetic and alert to the needs of their own people."

The sooner we provide locally for the needs of our people, the sooner we can resist the federal invasion of the business of the states."

Paragraph Tells Whole Story of Our Times
Dewey's speech, over again. It tells the whole political story of our times, and explains the why behind it.

Hoover rails against federal relief. But when he was in office he wanted the local governments, the community chest and the Red Cross to do the relief job. He would provide feed for mules but no federal funds for food. But neither the state nor private agencies were doing the job. The federal government had to step in.

Throughout our history the New York stock market ran as a private club and the most flagrant abuses grew up there and in securities financing. If nobody else would clean up conditions, the federal government would step in. Between the failure of private enterprise to clean its own house and the failure of states to attend to numerous duties in the social and economic field, the federal government was left as the only agency which seemed able or willing to undertake these things. Most of what Roosevelt has attempted was long long overdue and private business and the states, who complain of federal encroachment have only themselves to blame.

Case Can Be Made But Hoover Isn't Making It
In the light of such conditions, it is silly for Republicans to talk about dictatorship and "creeping communism"—so silly that six years of reiteration has made scarcely a perceptible dent in Roosevelt's personal strength. On the contrary, there is increasing recognition of the fact that however much he has failed in details, Roosevelt has tried hard to do a reconstruction job that nobody else would tackle.

And Hoover, who has recently been in Europe, who has visited Hitler and lunched with Goering, who has seen dictatorships in action with all of their repression and political slavery, knows darned well that Roosevelt is a million miles from being a dictator.

There is a case to be made against Roosevelt and the Democrats but Hoover isn't making it. No wonder friends of Dewey are praying that Hoover won't try to go into New York state to campaign for him.

Operetta Planned At Marion School

Pupils of Elementary Grades Will Present
'Autumn Gold'

Marion—The elementary school will present an operetta, "Autumn Gold," in the Marion High school gymnasium at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Summer is in the fields with her flowers and sunbeams. She is bidding them farewell for she must leave as it is time for Autumn to come. She calls her woodland elves and bids them stay and help Autumn. The goblins, who are listening behind the bushes, plan to steal Autumn's gold and the magic wand. They are successful in their plot and with the magic wand change Autumn into a rabbit. However, the north wind and the wood elves come to her rescue by driving the goblins into Winter's underground cave after recapturing the wand. The elf captain hurries to restore Autumn, sending his elves to paint the leaves. Then all come back to the fields to welcome Autumn once more.

The leading characters are: Summer—Doris Wiandt; Autumn—Lois Farfitt; North Wind—Lynn Peters; Elf Captain—Jack Smith; Chief Goblin—Douglas Mayne.

The choruses are composed of 65 children representing flowers, sunbeams, elves, goblins, leaves and fairies. An advance ticket sale will be conducted by the children in the elementary school.

In the music department of the school, several new members have been admitted to the band. They are John Buhr, Raymond Brockhaus, Nioma Danks, Mary Beth Rogers, Leslie Malueg and Ruth Buhr.

The Girls' Glee club has been practicing on songs from other years. The mixed chorus is also practicing two new songs, "Indian Love Call" and "Vanka's Fanka."

The senior class last Wednesday presented a program in recognition of Columbus day. The entire class sang two songs, several members of the class gave readings, tableau and talks representing various important phases in the life of Columbus. There was also a pantomime depicting the difficulties Columbus encountered previous to his famed discovery.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of loose false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not let in fear of this happening to you just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds loose false teeth firmer, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks plate odor (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

NOW-See Clothes Wash up to 15% Whiter-with NEW HIGH-TEST OXYDOL

Amazing New Ingredient not only makes new High-Test OXYDOL far whiter washing—but also makes it give up to TWICE THE SUDS even in hard water...

"Impossible!" said millions of women when they heard that America's outstanding laundry soap had been improved.

"Unbelievable!" said scientists when they heard that new High-Test OXYDOL has the power to wash clothes far whiter than the old.

Yet it's true—every word of it! For an amazing new ingredient now makes High-Test Oxydol as much as 15% whiter washing than old-fashioned soaps. Yet keeps it safe for washable colors and fabrics—safe for hands.

Tested against old-style soaps even in hard water, High-Test Oxydol does these amazing things:—(1) Washes white clothes as much as 15% whiter. (2) Gives up to TWICE the suds—suds that actually stand up two to three times longer, in tub or washing machine.

But that's not all. For washable colored things washed in new High-Test Oxydol keep their freshness and sparkle, wash after wash, to a degree that is a revelation. Even gay, colored prints washed as many as 175 consecutive times in new High-Test Oxydol suds showed no perceptible sign of fading—came brilliant, fresh!

Furthermore—High-Test Oxydol soaks dirt loose in as little as 10 minutes, without the ruinous scrubbing or boiling associated with less up to date soaps.

You will be surprised to find how economical new High-Test Oxydol is. Cup for cup, it goes up to 1/2 again as far—washes up to 25% more clothes than the old-fashioned soaps you've probably used before.

Try High-Test OXYDOL and see if you don't find an utterly new experience in easier washdays, whiter clothes. Get a package today. Procter & Gamble.

BEFORE WASHING AFTER 125 WASHINGS

New High-Test OXYDOL is amazingly safe for washable colors. Even in hard water you'll find that colored things stay amazingly sparkling and fresh through an almost unbelievable number of washings.

OLD-FASHIONED WAY NEW OXYDOL WAY

OXYDOL soaks dirt loose in as little as 10 minutes. This ends the washboard scrubbing that shortens the life of clothes. Picture at left shows a new sheet (highly soiled) washed 84 times by scrubbing with old-style soap. Note fraying in weave, due to hard rubbing and scrubbing. On the right, another new sheet washed 84 times the scrubbable OXYDOL way. Note difference in "washday" wear and tear.

The sketches above illustrate how sections of common print, washed as much as 175 consecutive times in new High-Test OXYDOL have come through without any perceptible sign of fading.

INDUSTRY AND POLITICS

Alfred P. Sloan, for long head of General Motors, has been one of the most severe and outspoken critics of the administration.

Mr. Sloan announced on Tuesday that the salary cut which had affected 30,000 white collar workers last February has been restored to all those whose income is less than $300.00 a month. He said also that within the next few weeks General Motors will rehire about 35,000 factory workers.

This is a valuable announcement in industry but its greatest immediate worth is of a political nature in that it is favorable to the administration at an important time just before the election.

It would have been simple for Mr. Sloan to postpone this announcement, and natural too because most of the factory workers will not be called until at or about election. Coming, as the announcement does, it signifies that industry, however much it may disapprove of Mr. Roosevelt, is so entirely committed to the American system of government that it would consider an act reprehensible that aimed at giving the people of the country a false picture of actual conditions such as they may be.

Neither was there within the orbit of Mr. Sloan's vision any great or compelling reason for this step. "Our new models have been well accepted," he said. More interest was being aroused among buyers. Attendance at the new car exhibitions had increased perceptibly. Orders for new cars at these showings were better than a year ago.

The industrialist added up these and a great many other items that had been considered reliable in the history of the company which led him to the conclusion that "consumer buying when retail deliveries of new cars can be made to customers in volume" will be considerably greater than during the year just passed. Hence good business dictated that preparations be made many months in advance to handle the oncoming tide of orders.

It is appropriate to declare in conjunction with Mr. Sloan's statement that there are very few among the American people who would believe without appropriate evidence that leaders of business or industry would turn aside from a good opportunity just for the satisfaction of avenging a political difference of opinion.

And those who swallow that stuff might look up in materia medica the proper prescription for brain-fag.

COMPARISONS

Give the Townsends credit for realistic thinking this time. Said L. W. Jeffery of the pension-pluggers:

"Had Mr. Chapple definitely asked us for permission to enter the race as an independent, Townsends and Republican we would have refused it for the very good reason that such a candidacy would only further complicate an already complicated situation in Wisconsin."

Time was when Mr. Chapple confined his outbursts to attacks on the LaFollettes, and a great many people believed him to be sincere and respected him for his sincerity, if not for his finesse. It is a matter of record that he has written and spoken extensively about the LaFollette menace and once attended a session at the University of Wisconsin to determine just how far the Progressive termites had bored their way into our educational structure.

This naturally brings to mind the record of Robert K. Henry who has also devoted considerable time to attacking the LaFollettes. With four years in the state house as treasurer, Mr. Henry had a clearer chance to learn his subject matter than Mr. Chapple. Following the primary election, Mr. Henry was placed in a position where only a personal sacrifice could aid in achieving the end he sought—defeat of the LaFollette rule. He made that sacrifice in an admirable demonstration of political consistency.

Mr. Chapple's adventures of the past few weeks, however, have added to the proof that he is a flighty man, easily flattered or swerved by a few votes or a bit of publicity. Right now it looks as though all his former tirades against the LaFollettes were as sincere as Big Bill Thompson's threats against the late George V.

Having seen Mr. Chapple thus nullify the platform on which he has been running for years, having seen him fail to follow the example of an obviously sincere candidate, and having seen the Townsend organization repudiate him, his charges of double-dealing must be weighed in these scales of experience. Nevertheless, some of the Chapple dust will stick, or at least confuse. Everything he has done publicly for the past few weeks has brought comfort to the Progressive camp and helped restore the political situation to its status of 1934 and 1936 despite the virtual disappearance of the state Democrats.

TOUGH LUCK

If some Foundation offers a prize to the unluckiest man we propose Otto Freitag, a resident of Chicago, who has been receiving $28.95 in the way of a relief check every month for two years.

A week ago Freitag suffered an unconscious seizure in a business district. Policemen carried him home where he seemed to recover. They put him inside the vestibule sitting on the stairs. His story is that thereafter he again passed out and when he regained consciousness he found himself in his third floor apartment but without any recollection of who helped or carried him there.

There was nothing in this history worthy of publicity in a big city. The live item comes from Freitag's later statement to the authorities:

"For six years I've carried $11,100 in currency in a tobacco sack sewed in the lining of my sleeve. I don't trust banks or government bonds. I don't believe in them. But when I recovered at home I discovered my money was gone."

Mr. Freitag further admitted that $7,500 was in the form of gold notes, the retention of which had long since become an offense against the government.

Yet Mr. Freitag's experiences, though certainly very tough from the standpoint of luck, convey something of a picture of the way people are willing to treat their government.

They will spurn it, kick it, disobey its laws, even those made for the express purpose of straightening out some very bad kinks, and then rob it needlessly by committing perjury in order to get a relief check.

At the same time they are quite willing to give it a final bruise in the ribs by saying they have no confidence in its bonds.

And if the bonds it prints are no good just how do they figure out the money sewed up in a tobacco bag is worth anything?

DOWN TO THE LAST CENT

Latvia has a minister named Alfred Bilmanis who decorously represents his country at Washington.

This minister thought he would look America over from an automobile. So he started from Washington and made a nice circle through Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Tennessee, New York and Pennsylvania.

In the course of his journey he found it necessary to fill the tank in the car with gasoline and he was astonished to pay in the neighborhood of 20 cents a gallon since the European price ranges from 45 up to 75 cents.

But Mr. Bilmanis knows his way about. He found in a treaty existing between this country and Latvia a clause known as a "reciprocal arrangement" by the terms of which Latvia's minister is exempted from our taxes and our minister is exempted from Latvia's taxes. The case is brought to point because this worthy gentleman insists that Mississippi must pay him back 52 cents, the amount of taxes on the gas he purchased there, and Mississippi says it cannot make payment until the legislature is called together and passes a law making such an appropriation.

In the meantime Latvia still owes us over 8 million dollars we loaned her to buy bread for her starving masses after the World war was over.

The incident isn't of much consequence, perhaps, but if the diplomats of other European nations dog each other around looking for the last half dollar in this Latvian manner we must not be surprised when tempers are lost and armies ordered out.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

LEGACY OF SUMMER

All through the winter when the wind is howling,
I shall hear waves upon a distant shore,
And when through darkened skies Nature is howling,
I shall draw beauty from my summer store.
When pavements crowd, I shall see fish nets drying,
And a white sloop put gaily off to sea,
The gray gulls following the bright spray flying,
And the green fringe of forest calling me.
I shall remember flocks of bright birds wheeling Silently over blue September's sky,
And the faint shadow of the winter stealing
Across the meadows when the sun was high.
I shall recapture on a winter morning
Some part of summer's green remembered calm,
And know in spite of the north wind's shrill warning
A little way ahead lies summer's balm.

DALE HARRISON'S

In Old New York

Mayaguez, Puerto Rico—It was my purpose while in Puerto Rico to discuss in stately sentences some of the federal government's elaborate enterprises hereabouts, but I had not counted on ghosts and buried treasure and cave women then. Somehow a federal project pales as the subject of an essay when there are items of adventure and ghosts and buccaneers lying around.

I guess, though, I ought to say that the U. S. and insular forestry service is doing a lot of things at Mona Island, despite the ghosts of Captain Arturo Munoz-McCormick of whom we wrote (with quivering pen) yesterday. It is planting a lot of trees, and some vegetables and has built some fishing cabins there which the government will rent you by the day, if you're interested. The government will also rent you a boat, and will provide guides to show you where the tuna, the barracuda, the red snapper, the groupers and a lot of other fish are. All you have to do is pull them in.

A CCC camp has been established, and the government has an idea that pretty soon a lot of Americans with sporting blood in their veins will come down to Mona and fish their heads off.

I thought it odd that they should have to plant trees on an island which has been practically uninhabited—except for the captain's ghosts—for centuries, but somebody told me that once there was a lot of mahogany on the island, and that the Spanish cut it down and took it away. The man said the Spanish were always doing things like that. I don't know. I'm a stranger here myself.

Living on Mona, her home a cave that dips deep into a coral wall, is a widow lady with a bevy of younguns. If this were New York, the Society and the Truant Officer and the Family Court and the various Agencies for Good would have held indignation meetings long ere this. On Mona Island, though, it is axiomatic that people mind their own business. The widow lady, therefore, lives on in her cave with her brood; and if they never learn to read Esquire or Vogue, who can say they are the worst for it?

The lady came to Mona years ago with her husband, a fisherman from Mayaguez. The poor fellow died, as people do even in hospitals. It was 40 miles back to Mayaguez, and the journey hardly seemed worth the trouble; so the widow lady stayed on.

There you will find her today. For food there is fish and plantain and some vegetables with funny names and funnier tastes. Occasionally a wild pig wanders within reach of one of the lady's agile heirs, and is tunked over the head with a club. Wild pork is pretty miserable food as pork goes, but when you live in a cave on a tropical island with a careful of kids for many years you get used to it.

And Europe can go to war and kill itself, and the widow lady won't pay any attention. Chances are, she won't even know about it. It must be lovely, living in a cave.

Of course, there are bats. I never cared for bats. Mona's caves are full of them—the ordinary kind that are like mice with wings, and the vampire bats who feast on man's blood if man isn't careful.

There are little lizards—cute little fellows who eat mosquitoes. I don't know why—and innumerable crawling things which give one a job until after awhile, I suppose, one gets used to them.

I had expected to hear much bird singing while down here, but there has been none to speak of. In the early evening the air is filled with a sound like the bobwhites make, but it comes from the throats of frogs.

Almost always there is a treasure hunter or two skulking mysteriously around Mona Island. A few months ago a man came down from Maine and lived in a cave and behaved very secretly. Suddenly he departed, carrying a bag which he guarded jealously and which was apparently very heavy.

It may have been gold, but my idea is that the fellow had only dug up a bagful of old jokes to carry back to American radio comedians.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Oct. 18, 1928
Otto Sprister, Appleton, was elected treasurer of the Wisconsin Association of Retail Meat Dealers at the closing session of the association convention at Sheboygan.

Walter J. Kohler, Republican candidate for governor, was to give an address in Appleton at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Oct. 27, according to word received Thursday by W. H. Zuelke, chairman of the Outagamie County Republican club.

Workmen started pouring concrete for the foundation of the new George Thomas Book store on E. College avenue, west of the Schneider restaurant, that week. The structure was to be 40 feet wide and 60 feet long and two stories high.

Thursday, Oct. 23, 1913

Kaukauna was the latest city to adopt the motorcycle cop scheme to curtail speeding on the part of automobiles. The report was brought back here by H. E. Pearson and Carl Haugen, an employee of the Schleifer Hardware company.

A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rogers, Superior street, the previous evening when about 20 friends surprised Mrs. Orville Jenkins, who was visiting here from Rainy River, Canada. Prizes were won by Edward Plank, Desmond Cogrove, Miss Margaret McDougall, John Rogers, Miss Sylvia Frank and Mrs. Charles Walker.

Harrison Fisher, Theodore Briggs, Henry Boone and Gerald Galpin made a trip to Oshkosh the previous day in the Fisher automobile. They reported the roads between here and Oshkosh were in bad condition.

A Bystander

In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Politics has obscured a major drama in the decision of Governor Lehman to run again for governor of New York instead of seeking election to the senate.

By his decision to run again for his present office—a decision almost forced upon him as a means of saving the ticket—he log-jammed his own political career. He and his supporters felt fairly sure he could

Grover have been elected to the two-year short term in the senate left by the death of Senator Copeland. Re-election two years hence normally would not have been difficult. So, that way, his political future was cut out for him.

Further, he was plainly tired of the governorship. He would have dropped out two years ago but was prevailed upon to run to "assure" President Roosevelt of carrying the state.

Farley Helped Him Decide
This year almost the same situation developed. The party organization was frankly afraid of the Republican candidate, District Attorney Tom Dewey. With Lehman running again for governor, they felt they could win. So under pressure from Postmaster General Farley and organization leaders he scuttled his immediate senate ambition to run for governor.

To most people it would not be sad news to have to be governor of New York, but if a man wants to be senator instead, then what?

At the end of two years more of governorship, what will be in store for Lehman?

For various reasons Lehman is not looked upon as presidential timber and further, he never has indicated any desire to wield a big influence in the national party organization. He wanted only to be senator, and now the odds are not good there. In 1940 he might run for the senate but if the present Democratic candidate for that job, Rep. James Mead, is elected, he won't want to step out of the way for Lehman. And if a Republican is elected, he won't be so easy to unseat.

Looking Ahead To 1940

Lehman didn't like the picture and his friends here say he bucked strenuously before giving up. For him it was mostly give and little get. If successful, he rescued and preserved the power of the state organization for what? To win, of course, but equally to make certain that Roosevelt forces would control the New York delegation to the next national convention. And Lehman may or may not have been wholeheartedly for that.

Of course Lehman will not necessarily be retired altogether from public life by the change of plans. In event of a Democratic victory in 1940 he would be almost certain of some important diplomatic post, upon his retirement from the governorship.

One jovial Irishman was reputed to have joked to Lehman in connection with his decision to give up immediate senatorial aspirations.

"Well, governor, remember the sacrifice Washington had to make at Valley Forge."

ONE-CANNON WAR

Simla, India—A "one cannon" war is about to start on the North-West Frontier between the Khan of Khar and the Khan of Nawati.

It's an annual affair, carefully staged, and both parties agree on time and place.

The war is "adjoined" if they have more serious business to attend to such as the harvest.

The only cannon for hire in the region belongs to the Halmai Maliks. The side able to exert the greater influence on the Maliks acquires its use.

This year the Khan of Nawati got the cannon.

War has not started yet, but the Khan has fired a few practice shots at the Tower, built by the Khan of Khar, one of the causes of disagreement between the two Khans.

YAST RANCH PURCHASED

One of the biggest land deals ever in South Africa has just been completed with the sale by the government of the Omatako ranch, containing more than 600,000 acres, near Windhoek. The buyer was the South-West Cold Storage, whose fifteen-year lease of the property had just expired. Virgin country 15 years ago, the ranch now is one of the most progressive in Africa.

CROP CONTROL OR VOTE CONTROL?

Your Birthday

"LIBRA"

If October 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a. m.; from 1:15 to 3:15 p. m.; and from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a. m.; from 5:15 to 7:15 p. m.; and from 9:15 to 11:15 p. m.

You may unexpectedly receive a gift or money. Unforeseen happenings are likely to add to your happiness this day. The average person is apt to be inclined to belittle his accomplishments, and underestimate his intrinsic worth, which will be a mistake. You will probably find people ready to accept you at your own appraisal. Anything that borders on being a scheme to make money quickly, is apt to find favor among the gullible. It is good judgment not to accept anyone's word about any investment, until you have done some investigating for yourself. Hypocrisy will take the form of self-righteousness this day, so be circumspect in your dealings with any holier-than-thou person you may contact in a business way. Married and engaged couples, and those who are courting or being courted, must not let selfishness influence them in discussing anything for their mutual benefit or pleasure.

If a woman and October 21 is your birthday, your love for luxuries has an excellent chance of being satisfied. You have a great deal of stability. Through some resolution you are likely to score a triumphant achievement. You must not, however, permit ambition to interfere with your love or domestic life. As you are perhaps very versatile, it might be advisable to concentrate your energy in developing one talent, which you can reasonably feel has a commercial, as well as an artistic value. View with tolerance the opinions of your friends, if you have any desire to be popular. Through photography, painting, writing, operating a business of your own, or as a professional entertainer, your way through life may be a series of successes. Your ability to make the man you marry happy, will in all likelihood result in your knowing the blessing of happiness.

The child born on October 21 usually has a very receptive mind and a remarkable memory. Love for excitement, will make this youngster eager to be always on the go. Any fondness for outdoor sports should be indulged. Children born on this date ought to have impressed upon them the need to be modest about their accomplishments.

If a man and October 21 is your natal day, you cannot afford to be self-centered, overly aggressive or secretive, if you wish to succeed. Theological, educational, theatrical, literary or some agricultural line of activity might be the best medium through which contentment and prosperity can be gained.

TWO RUN FOR DEATH BOAT
Sentenced to death for shooting a tribesman in New Guinea, two native policemen almost missed the boat that was to take them away to be executed. They arrived breathless as it was about to sail, and apologized profusely. The policemen were officers of the New Guinea Native Armed Constabulary, and they killed the tribesman when they found them suffering after a skirmish. When the two arrived at Port Moresby, Papua, where they were to be hanged, they learned, their sentence had been commuted to imprisonment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Amber Glasses
Have heard that amber glasses are detrimental to the eyes, and that only smoked or dark glasses may be safely worn to protect against glare. E. H.
Answer—Smoked or dark glasses are best. Some oculists advise against wearing amber or other tinted glasses, and even smoked or dark glasses should be worn only in intense glare, not in ordinary daylight or for every day use.

Fresh Paint
Kitchen closets and cooler, including shelves, just painted before we moved in. Will the paint harm food or be dangerous to us? Miss J.E. S.

Answer—No. Except to the baby who gnaws on any painted object or furniture. Baby's crib, chair blocks or toys should be unpainted, to prevent serious chronic lead poisoning in that way.

High Potency
Having had psoriasis for years I am interested in any remedy likely to help. I understand you told about a new vitamin treatment? C. H. M.
Answer—High potency vitamin D treatment described in booklet "Save Your Skin" (25 cents) has proved successful in most cases. (Copyright, 1938)

Disharmony in Home Is Main Juvenile Delinquency Cause, University Women are Told

DISHARMONY in the home is the main cause of juvenile delinquency, Miss Margaret Brooks, Chicago, Protestant worker in the Cook County Juvenile court and at the Chicago Detention home, told the Appleton branch of the American Association of University Women at its October meeting Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. T. E. Orblison, 214 S. Rankin street.

Miss Iturbi Great Star, Brother Says

THE famous Jose Iturbi, recently in Detroit for his sister's debut, insisted that the limelight that night was for Amparo alone.

"My sister is a great artist," Iturbi said at the Hotel Statler. "She needs no one to help her shine. Amparo, who will appear on the Community Artist Series at Memorial chapel next Wednesday evening, sat and listened, trying hard to interpret a word here and there, because she speaks no English.

In meeting her, one is reminded of the Spanish background of orange groves and sunshine and sea that is hers by heritage. The Iturbi home is in beautiful Valencia, and there it was that the little Amparo first began to play the piano with unmistakable signs of genius at the age of 5. She played with her brother, the famous Jose, who is slightly her senior.

There were the orange groves, the sea and all that, but money was scarce, and when the family had packed the youthful Jose off to Paris for study, it was unable to do the same for Amparo. So she studied at home and at the age of 15 gave her first recital in Barcelona. The Spaniards haven't the word for it, but she wowed them. She financed her own study in Paris.

"She did it by herself," says Jose, beaming. "The has a vigor in her playing seldom seen. She's great!"

In 1925 she gave her first concert in Paris and later she gave 2-piano concerts there together," he said. "Since then she has appeared in Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, England, and France and she's been soloist with such orchestras as the Lamoureux, Pasdeloup, and Poulet."

There are approximately 440,000 Jews in Palestine and 800,000 Arabs and the frequent clashes between the two have led the British government to consider curtailing Jewish immigration. Because Palestine is the only haven left for Jewish refugees, such action would mean suffering and death for thousands, Rabbi De Koven said.

With the assistance of Mrs. John, Rabbi De Koven illustrated his address with lantern slide pictures of modern Palestine, showing in particular the work being done by the new Jewish colonists. The mortality rate has decreased tremendously since Jewish colonization began, he said, and the exportation of oranges, the country's largest industry, has grown from one million cases in 1917 to eleven million in 1937.

A tear bowl and other antiques found in Jewish excavations and a book of pressed flowers from Palestine were brought to the meeting by Mrs. Judson Rosebush. The program also included violin selections by Jack Kalman, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John. They were "Hebrew Lullaby" and "Hebrew Melody" by Achron, and "Dort Wo Die Zeder" by L. N. Imbes, arranged by J. J. Kammen.

Miss Iturbi Great Star, Brother Says

THE famous Jose Iturbi, recently in Detroit for his sister's debut, insisted that the limelight that night was for Amparo alone.

"My sister is a great artist," Iturbi said at the Hotel Statler. "She needs no one to help her shine. Amparo, who will appear on the Community Artist Series at Memorial chapel next Wednesday evening, sat and listened, trying hard to interpret a word here and there, because she speaks no English.

In meeting her, one is reminded of the Spanish background of orange groves and sunshine and sea that is hers by heritage. The Iturbi home is in beautiful Valencia, and there it was that the little Amparo first began to play the piano with unmistakable signs of genius at the age of 5. She played with her brother, the famous Jose, who is slightly her senior.

There were the orange groves, the sea and all that, but money was scarce, and when the family had packed the youthful Jose off to Paris for study, it was unable to do the same for Amparo. So she studied at home and at the age of 15 gave her first recital in Barcelona. The Spaniards haven't the word for it, but she wowed them. She financed her own study in Paris.

"She did it by herself," says Jose, beaming. "The has a vigor in her playing seldom seen. She's great!"

Jewish Palestine Is Threatened by Unrest in Europe

Speaking to the Reading club at its meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hans John, 208 N. Union street, Rabbi Ralph D. Koven of Moses Montefiore synagogue said that during the present period of unrest in Europe Palestine stood in great danger of being lost to the Jews unless public sentiment throughout the world could be aroused to such an extent as to make the British government maintain its original program of rebuilding Palestine for the Jews.

There are approximately 440,000 Jews in Palestine and 800,000 Arabs and the frequent clashes between the two have led the British government to consider curtailing Jewish immigration. Because Palestine is the only haven left for Jewish refugees, such action would mean suffering and death for thousands, Rabbi De Koven said.

We Get British Lecturers but They Get Astor Fox Hunters

BY WESTBROOK FEGLER

New York—Now and again we in this country feel a little impatient with ourselves for submitting to the constant criticism of our manners, habits and all by visiting British authors and lecturers. I am not saying we shouldn't be annoyed, for these chattering sopranos do be a nuisance, but what do you suppose are the feelings of the poor English people toward us, considering that their government has just about been taken over now by a clique of pure-proud snobs exported from the United States—the Astors and the Nancy Langhorne that was?

The Astors struck it rich in the United States and now they run the good old Times of London, which, in the recent embarrassment with Adolf Hitler, laid down the course to be followed by the British government. They are the so-called Cliveden set, and Nancy obviously possesses, or pretends to, more influence than the queen herself.

Nancy is a born Virginia fox hunter, one of the old country set, very dashing and spirited and all that, and she was at one time known as the beautiful Nancy Astor, although, from her pictures of late, she is the image of that soul of sweet and purring serenity, Margot Asquith, of whom one British lecturer at large in this country once said that she never could be met face to face, as she "hadn't got a face but two profiles stuck together."

Nancy's idea of democracy is to have rough and ready repartee with the lower orders of society in political meetings and, although there have been moments when the simple navvies or ditch-diggers of England have hollered "Good old Nancy!" There is none of that nonsense about the simple fraternity of human beings in the Cliveden set.

You wouldn't be finding much of that simple fraternity business among the Astors any where, and if it does come to a question of democracy the most democratic experience that has befallen the family in all its interesting life occurred in the American branch when the current John Jacob Astor incurred a stepfather who was a second-rate Italian prize fighter named Enzo Fiermonte.

The intricacies of the family are such that it would be difficult to decide offhand the actual relationship between Enzo Fiermonte, known in American pugilism as Enzo the Gingo, and Major John Jacob Astor, the Mr. Big of the London Times and British foreign policy. Major John Jacob Astor and the Cliveden set probably have no impatient desire to establish the relationship, for not only was Enzo the Gingo a prize fighter, not a fox hunter, but he was once ruled out of a proposed match with Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom for the light heavyweight championship of the world.

"Time to Protect Ourselves," Army Officers are Told

Power Ruling the World Today, Lawrence Instructor Says

"The time for pacifism is gone," Donald DuShane, assistant professor of government at Lawrence college, told Appleton chapter of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States at a meeting at Hotel Appleton last night, "and it is time we realize that power and politics rule and that we should protect ourselves."

Mr. DuShane discussed the European and Asiatic situations and their probable effect upon the United States. He reviewed the history of Europe since the war, pointed out Hitler's steps in his march eastward and discussed the recent treaty at Munich.

"The Monroe doctrine and the Philippines and the situations they are apt to involve the United States in, also were discussed. In the latter connection he suggested the Philippines be given their independence and left to shift for themselves but they cause the United States to become embroiled in an Asiatic dispute which will find it handicapped because it will be too far from bases."

Autonomous Colonel Olin Dryer, Kaukauna, was the other speaker. He discussed the course of instruction at the army's command and staff school which he attended at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, recently, the procedure and the tactical principal taught.

During the course of his comments, Colonel Dryer took issue with a recent action of the Methodist church, of which he is a member. The Methodistists at a convention held records as opposing any "offensive" war.

The colonel said that the term was poorly used because the American army is committed to the use of the offense in case of an emergency. It doesn't intend to let someone land on American shores and then try to chase him out, he said. The American army will take the offensive immediately and prevent the landing. It was the colonel's suggestion that the church should be informed and its action clarified.

About 25 officers attended the meeting which was presided over by Captain Helm Hussner, chapter president. Appointment of Captain Walter Brummund as chairman of National Defense week, was announced. It also was announced the sixth training sector meeting of reservists would be held at Hotel Appleton on Saturday, Oct. 29.

Committee Requests $3,000 Increase in Next Year's Budget

A boost of $3,000 will be asked in the 1939 budget estimate for the recreational committee of the common council bringing the total request to $4,000, according to figures filed in city hall today.

The increase, the committee said, is to pay for lights which must be installed at the Spencer street athletic field next year. The committee exceeded its budget by $2,900 this year when a fence was erected around the field.

Of the total budget, $1,000 is needed to operate the municipal swimming pool next summer. The remainder will go to maintain the city recreational program, the baseball field and skating rinks.

New Deal Strives For Vote Triumph In Pennsylvania

Farley Takes Leadership In Effort to Elect Democrats

Philadelphia — (AP) — The New Deal's leadership, with Postmaster General James A. Farley at the forefront, plunges into Pennsylvania's fall campaign tonight with national aid in the Democratic fight to elect a United States senator and retain control of the state government.

Farley, Democratic national chairman, is the first of eight "big guns" speakers expected to enter the state before the election less than three weeks hence. He will appear at a $100-per-plate dinner here, an affair which ticket sales show will yield at least $270,000 to the state Democratic campaign fund.

President Roosevelt has said he personally would not come into Pennsylvania although he received first-hand reports on the campaign's progress when Democratic candidates and Senator Guffey (D-R.) visited him recently at his Hyde Park estate.

Other Speakers

Besides Farley, three department heads and four members of congress plan to speak in behalf of the Democratic ticket. They include Interior Secretary Ickes, Agriculture Secretary Wallace, Attorney General Cummings, Senator Barkley, the majority leader; Senator Hill of Alabama; Speaker Bankhead and Representative Rayburn of Texas.

The appearance of the Democratic leaders was seen by some as a move to heal any possible wounds within the party that may have been left by the turbulent primary campaign last spring, when Senator Guffey, joined with CIO chief John L. Lewis in leading an insurgent CIO-Democratic ticket that was defeated down the line.

Guffey now is in charge of the Democratic campaign.

The Keystone State Democrats are fighting to send Governor George H. Earle, the state's first democratic chief executive in 44 years, to the United States senate, and named Charles Alvin Jones, Pittsburgh attorney, his successor to the governor's chair.

Earle's opponent is the veteran Republican senator, James J. Davis. The Republican nominee for governor is Arthur H. James, state superior court judge and outspoken New Deal critic.

Freight Car Loadings Above Level of 1937

Officials of the three railroads running into Appleton reported today that freight car loadings have an edge over last year's level and that prospects of a continued increase are bright.

Clintonville Is Awarded 1938 State Aeronautic Convention

Clintonville—This city will be host to the 1938 convention of the National Aeronautic association of Wisconsin. This announcement was made Wednesday by President Lloyd H. Bauer of Gateway chapter, which will be in charge of the two-day event. The convention will be held in conjunction with the two-day civic celebration and dedication of the new municipal airport, Nov. 5 and 6, Bauer said.

N. A. A. Governor Howard W. Morey of Madison informed Bauer Tuesday that Alexander chapter, Wausau, had suggested that Clintonville be permitted to hold the convention because of Clintonville's support of the new Northwest Airline's run which will begin operation through this territory next spring.

The convention will bring prominent aeronautical personalities to the city. Among them will be B. B. Freeburg, Northwest Airlines' famous pilot and superintendent of the eastern division of the airline. Bauer, who heads the civic committee in charge of the celebration of the airport dedication, said that his committee chairman would meet Thursday evening at the city hall. It Is Said -

That the canvas and blankets that covered the windows in Mrs. Hans John's living room at 206 N. Union street Wednesday afternoon, shutting out every vestige of light, made it look as if the women gathering there were bent on some political conspiracy, but the reason was a perfectly harmless one—merely to shut out the light so that the lantern slide pictures which were being shown to Mrs. John's club that afternoon would be clearer.

That pheasant hunters are helping some young girls to keep up with the latest style, that of wearing feathers in their hats. The hunters have little trouble getting rid of the large bright colored feathers which are in heavy demand.

That the steady growth of Appleton Vocational school enrollment has caused a few maladjustments to such things as parking and classroom space.

A week ago, members of the United Grocers group, for example, had plenty of room for their cars in the school lot. A week ago, most of the classes hadn't started. Last night the grocers met again, and several were overheard remarking on "What's going on here?" when they approached the school only to find cars packed in all available openings for a block or so around—indicating that other classes are now convening regularly. The grocers' class is so large this year that some of them had to get out of the retail sales room during the discussion last night.

The features of the fall and winter Y. M. C. A. program which are being offered for the first time are really "taking."

Ray Risch, physical education director, reported today that boys of grade and high school age are evincing eager interest in the boxing classes this week, that tap dancing has made a hit with the business girls' class, and that already he's received inquiries as to when the first ball will be pitched in the baseball league to be formed.

That members of the Roth Hi-Y club had to "choose up sides" last night for a dance instruction period because they young lady friends they had invited for the occasion couldn't be present.

It is customary for Hi-Y clubs to hold occasional dance instruction hours following meetings at the Y. M. C. A. The high school girls lend their assistance. But last night, the girls were busy elsewhere so the boys followed the only course open—danced with one another.

Red Cross Board to Plan 1938 Roll Call

A meeting of the board of directors of the Outagamie county chapter of American Red Cross will be held within a week to map plans for the annual roll call, according to Mrs. S. C. Shannon, executive secretary. The roll call will begin Nov. 11 and will continue through Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Shannon, and co-chairman for the roll call, George F. Werner and the Rev. G. H. Blum, attended a regional roll call meeting at Madison Wednesday.

Totalitarianism Is Coming Social Change--Barrows

Lawrence College President Talks at Milwaukee Parley

Totalitarianism will be the next important social change, with education playing the role of the conservative force, President Thomas N. Barrows of Lawrence college said in a talk before the Women's Court and Civic conference yesterday at Milwaukee, according to the Associated Press.

"Education in the new social order is not a matter of abandoning old beliefs, customs and habits," he said. "It still is a question of finding the best program for the development of individual capacity."

Women must strive to maintain the equality of rights they have attained in the United States, Miss Earlene White, of Washington, D. C., warned conference delegates.

Miss White, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, said: "We women must see that our rights are not taken away from us as has been done in some of the European countries. Here in this country women, are recognized more and more as the equals of men in government, business and the professions, while Germany and Italy have begun putting them back into the inconspicuous roles from which they had emerged with dignity and success."

Increased Production Needed, Chapple Says

Eau Claire — (AP) — John Chapple, independent candidate for the United States senate, told an audience on a side street near the auditorium here last night that "our industrial system is only operating at half speed today, producing only half the things it ought to be producing."

Chapple had sought to hold his meeting on the steps of the auditorium while Julius Heil, Republican nominee for governor, was addressing an audience inside. Police, however, advised that a municipal ordinance prohibited both street meetings and the use of loud speakers, but permitted Chapple to speak without a loudspeaker in the vicinity of the building.

"We can throw our industrial system into high gear again by the Townsend plan of forcing continuous distribution of what is produced into the hands of the mass of the people," Chapple said.

Bob Says Unemployment Problem Must Be Solved

Kenosha — (AP) — "Democracy in the United States may stand or fall on the problem of unemployment which has not yet been solved," Senator Robert M. LaFollette, campaigning in behalf of Progressive party candidates, said last night.

Warning that some form of communism or fascism would threaten the nation if the economic problem were not solved, LaFollette stated: "The Progressives of Wisconsin and the NPA (National Progressive Party of America) are determined to put into operation plans which will provide real jobs for the unemployed."

Paving Work Started On Bridge Approaches

Paving of the new bridge approaches on Highway 54 at Shiocton has been started. The contract was the subject of considerable discussion some months ago when it was found that the route would cut off a corner of the old Eben Rexford home on the banks of the Wolf river. Later it was decided to move the house.

Declares Sikora Feared Death at Hands of Lovers

Mother-in-Law Testifies Murder Defendant Feared for Life

Chicago — (AP) — Rudolph Sikora's mother-in-law testified today he had feared that his attractive wife and his love rival were conspiring to kill him.

Resuming his witness stand story at Sikora's dramatic trial on charges of murdering Edward Solomon, Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme said Sikora came to her home last Aug. 19—three days before the slaying—and confessed he was afraid to put his car in the garage "because they might have me bumped off."

"I asked who he meant," the stout mother-in-law continued. "He said 'why Margaret and Solomon. I'm in their way, you know.'"

That statement concluded her direct testimony as a defense witness—a role that pitted her against her comely daughter, Margaret, who testified for the prosecution yesterday before a jury qualified to send her "model husband" to the electric chair.

Mother, Daughter at Odds

Cross-examination by Prosecutor Leslie Curtis emphasized the definite rift between the mother and daughter.

"Margaret wasn't very friendly, was she?" he asked.

"No," Mrs. Boehme replied.

The witness then related how she and Sikora had visited the state attorney's office to discuss the Sikoras marital difficulties.

"We talked to Mr. Crawford (an assistant state's attorney) about Margaret and mentioned narcotics," she said. "Mr. Crawford said 'maybe she is using dope.'"

"You never had definite proof that Margaret was using narcotics, did you?" Curtis inquired.

The defense objected before the witness could answer.

"Did you think Margaret was crazy?"

Got Daughter Discharged

"I thought maybe she was because of the way she was acting," "You have been very bitter against your daughter, haven't you?"

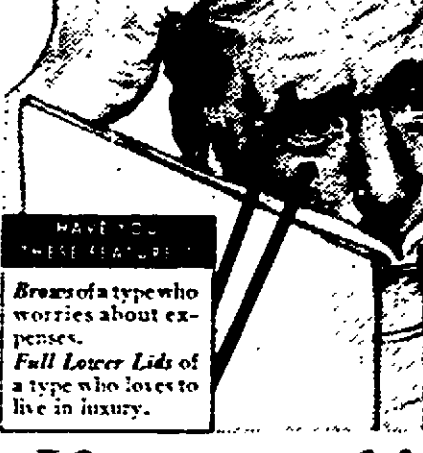

"Another defense objection obligated a reply.

"You succeeded in getting Margaret discharged?"

"Yes."

This reference was to the time Margaret lost her position as a secretary for an accounting firm.

where she worked with Solomon, a man of 35.

During the period last summer, when Solomon wooed and won 22-year-old Mrs. Sikora, her husband was "mentally ill," Mrs. Boehme testified.

"You didn't say anything about Rudy's mental troubles during the investigation or inquest into Solomon's death, did you?" Curtis challenged.

The defense objection was sustained by Judge James Farley.

Snyder Indicted After Ruth Etting Tells of Shooting

Ruling Permits Case to Go To Trial Without Hearing

Los Angeles — (AP) — "Colonel Gimp" of the Great White Way, Martin Snyder, again occupied a jail cell in lieu of $50,000 bail today while the state moved to try him quickly on charges he kidnapped and attempted to murder Myrl Alderman, his successor to singer Ruth Etting's love.

The original charges against "Colonel Gimp" were superseded last night by a grand jury indictment—voted after Miss Etting testified that he shot Alderman in the music room of her Hollywood Hills home last Saturday night. The indictment permits the case to go to trial without a preliminary hearing.

Miss Etting, 42, flaxen-haired and visibly nervous, spoke to the jury in trembling voice of the shooting scramble.

Lights Go Out

She said Alderman drove up to the house with Snyder holding a pistol against his back. Once inside, she said, Snyder told her, Alderman, and Edith Snyder, his step-daughter, that "I'm going to kill all of you."

One bullet from Snyder's pistol went wild, she continued, but the second struck Alderman in the abdomen as the lights in the room went out.

She told of running into the bedroom to get her own revolver, a struggle with Snyder for its possession, and of Edith, her secretary, reloading the weapon from the floor and firing at her father's retreating back.

Serves Notice Of Suit

Snyder, before going off to jail emptied his pockets of cash and stripped a gold watch inscribed "From Ruth to Moe" from his wrist.

"Well, the little lady hung another one on me," he said, "but I can take it now because I guess all the old firsts are dead."

A process server took the opportunity to hand Miss Etting a copy of the $150,000 love theft suit filed against her by Alderman's second wife, Alma, who later announced through her lawyer that she wished a reconciliation with the 30-year old shooting victim whom she divorced last December.

Sigman Will Attend Committee Meeting

Truck Driver Not Permitted to Give Out Refund Form

Motor Fuel Division Puts New Regulation Into Effect

Truck drivers selling or delivering petroleum products may not have refund of the motor fuel tax blanks to distribute to any one and neither may a truck driver act as a notary public on a claim for the refund of the motor fuel tax.

Because of the abuses in cases scattered throughout the state, the motor fuel tax division of the Wisconsin Tax commission has issued the above regulation, effective at once. The regulation applies to all petroleum products truck drivers, whether commissioned truck drivers, independent or drivers for an oil company.

A licensed motor fuel distributor may be furnished with refund blanks, but the blanks must be held in the office of the distributor and may be given out only when a claimant for the refund calls at the distributor's office and asks for a blank.

The claimant for the refund must prepare his own claim if capable of doing so. If he is handicapped in preparing his claim, an employee of the distributor, but not a truck driver, may assist him. The claimant must dictate the information furnished on the claim.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

The very chic Marie Wilson, popular Warner star, shows her individuality by her unique use of perfume. She never fails to scent the inside band of her hat. And her forgotten glove pays tribute to her scented personality!

The perfumes you wear outdoors should be different than those you choose for more gala or intimate occasions. Most of the leading perfume manufacturers have concentrated on special fragrances for your life out in the open, free from artificial backgrounds.

These have smoky bases, ferny odors, brisk floral or garden scents—mixed concoctions redolent of woodlands or the first giddy days of spring. Thus, in choosing one of these, you avoid the siren school of fragrance, and create a tantalizing aura in keeping with your daytime clothes.

Perfumes are really more delightful in the fresh air. Even on city streets, where sooty smoke smells are too prevalent, perfumes have their place. A whiff of fresh fragrance on a pretty girl is as refreshing as the first pussy willow! Providing the fragrance is appropriate for time and occasion. For as you know, nothing stimulates the memory more than smells—and passing perfumes remind city dwellers of romantic country lanes and a life less hectic!

Create Pleasant Aura
Among the great French designers is Mme. Jeanne Lanvin, who also mixes brews of her own, and she instructs American women how to subtly but surely create a "perfume personality."

"Whatever you do," she cautions, "do not concentrate your perfume on one small part of your being."

It is the proper distribution of your chosen scent which makes a woman seem to be enveloped in a cloud of fragrance.

Try touching the hem of your street skirt with perfume and tucking in a saturated bit of cotton in the breast pocket of your coat or suit. Or put it in your handbag. Perfume inside your glove is most effective, or distributed around the band inside your bonnet. Put a dab on your jaunty feather. Such diffusing of scent is bound to make you more subtly appealing as you live your day.

You cannot afford to be too lavish with a good perfume, but you can make it serve you as it should. Just be cautious in the amount you use—not in the way you use it!

And quite true. If you are fortunate enough to possess a pleasing perfume which compliments your own personality why not play it up to advantage? After all, we gals love perfumes, and we splash them about because we know that men do too! So along with you, and be a veritable breath of loveliness in someone's problematical existence! He'll adore you!

As perfume is the final touch, learn to be meticulously groomed before using it. My leaflet, "Don't of Careful Grooming" lists a few pitfalls! Send a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope for it. Address me care of this paper. (Copyright, 1938)

Better to Leave Husband for Awhile if He Appears 'Fed Up'

BY DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix—I have been married ten years and have a small family. Up until last year I have managed to keep my husband and family together, and I have been a good mother, wife and housekeeper. But my husband announces now that he is tired of domesticity; that he finds a wife and children boring and cannot tolerate us any longer. He is very anxious for me to take the children and go away for a while, as he says he needs a rest from the family. I was a very successful business girl before I was married and am offered a marvelous opportunity to go back into the business world, but I hesitate because I am afraid I would have to neglect my children. Do you advise me to go away for a while? JEAN.

DOROTHY DIX

I certainly do. Evidently your husband is fed up on domesticity and for the time being at least, you and the children are just poison to him. Of course, he is altogether in the wrong, but you can't argue with a mental state like that. You just have to meet it with common sense.

So the thing for you to do is to pack up and get off just as soon as you possibly can and leave him to the freedom he so ardently craves. The chances are that when he gets the thing he desires so much he will find that he doesn't want it after all. Just now he grows over you. You have been his wife and mother, and when you didn't have mutton, and when you have mutton he demands to know if they have quit killing bees in the slaughter houses. Let him try cooking his own breakfasts and eating around in cafeterias and restaurants for a change.

Just now you and the children bore him to tears and get on his nerves. Let him find out how lonely a house can be without a woman, or a child in it, nobody with whom to exchange a word.

Just now he thinks it would be the most delightful thing in the world to be able to come and go as he pleases and stay out with the boys all night without any one lying awake listening for his key in the lock. Let him try sitting up in a few all-night sessions at poker.

Believe me, he will come out of the experience a wiser man, for whatever else matrimony does to a man, it unfits him for the simple life. That is why widowers remarry so soon. They can't stand the freedom they have perhaps longed for. Your husband will miss the good meals you have prepared for him, the comfortable home you have made for him, the responsibilities you have taken off him, the care you have taken of him.

About the time he gets so that he can read over a menu from top to bottom without finding one single thing on it that appeals to his appetite; when he goes back home at night to a house that is dusty and stuffy and cluttered up, when he finds out that he has forgotten to send out the laundry and hasn't a single clean collar; when he finds that all he has got out of running around with a wild crowd of loafers, a state of L.O.U.'s and bills he has run up for things he couldn't afford, why, then, domesticity won't look so bad to him and he will begin to count the days until you and the children will come home.

At least, that is the strong probability, and at any rate it is the one chance you have of getting him back. Try it, and when you go, don't even write him a letter. Above all, don't suggest that he join you. Make him feel that you are perfect and get along without him. If anything can rouse his interest in you and the children, that will. There is a lot of truth in the old adage that absence makes the heart grow fonder.

The real mission of vacations is not to give wives and children a change of air and climate. It is to give husbands and wives a change from each other and a chance to let the sore spots in their lives that have been made by the chafing of different personalities get healed.

If at the end of your experiment your husband is still bored with you and the children and still longs for freedom, you will be well advised to take the business opportunity that is offered you and become self-supporting, for it will only be a matter of time until a man whose obligations rest so heavily upon him will take some means of evading them.

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am a boy of 21, very much in love with a girl who has told me of an affair she has had with another boy, and says, "If you don't like the way I am you can look for some one else." All my life I have always looked forward to marrying a clean, innocent girl. Hasn't a man a right to expect such a wife? Does it really make any difference as to the type of girl she is or will be? Should I be doing right in giving her up? I am very miserable. J. J. J.

Answer: I think you will be still more miserable if you marry a girl who does not come up to your ideal of womanhood, for always between you will be that stain on her character.

ruled, headed by a colored picture—his name and address would be almost too much riches. That can come when he can get his note off after one or two trials. The message can be one word, and his initials. Grandma or Aunt Eleanor will treasure that first note above all others.

Trained from the beginning the children form the habit of thankfulness, and if there is one more sustaining, more uplifting in the years of our sojourn on this earth, I haven't met with it. Thankfulness for the beauty of the world, the nobility of its people, our friends, for the grace of God, gives one an attitude toward life that belittles grief and magnifies joy.

Mr. Patril will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Aim of Test Is To Determine General Ability

BY ELY CULBERTSON
(This newspaper will present Auto-Rating playing boards to all readers who attain master rating in the national bridge examination.)

Right now, virtually at the start of the Second Annual Self-Rating Bridge examination, I want to clarify some important points.

First (as in the case of last year) you are not expected to answer questions on the sole basis of the Culbertson system. This is a test of general bridge knowledge, not of your ability to memorize (or look up in my books) the rule or illustrations that will lead you to the correct answers. Hence, followers of other systems will have an absolutely equal chance with Culbertson players. Take slam bidding, for instance. If you regularly use the Blackwood convention, and make the proper bid in accordance with it, you will receive full credit, just as though you used the more widely known Culbertson 4-3 no trump convention. Indeed, if you arrive by logical steps at the correct final contract, you do not have to use only slam convention.

TODAY'S QUESTIONS
Question 5. With neither side vulnerable and North (your partner) the dealer, the bidding has proceeded:

|---------|------|---------|------|
| North | East | South | West |
| Pass | Pass | 1 spade | Pass |
| 2 clubs | Pass | ? | ? |

You (South) hold:
♠ K Q 10 8 6 5 ♥ A K Q 4 2 ♦ None ♣ 4

What call do you make now?
Question 6. Both sides vulnerable. East, the opponent on your right, deals and bids one spade. You (South) hold:

|---------------------------------------|
| ♠ None ♥ K 10 8 6 ♦ A J 8 5 3 ♣ J 9 2 |
|---------------------------------------|

What call do you make?
TODAY'S HAND
West, dealer:
Both sides vulnerable.

|-----------------------------------|--|
| NORTH | EAST |
| ♠ A Q 10 ♥ K J 10 7 3 ♦ J 4 ♣ 3 3 | ♠ K J 8 7 6 5 ♥ Q 9 ♦ None ♣ K J 6 4 2 |

|-------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| WEST | SOUTH |
| ♠ 3 ♥ A 6 5 4 ♦ 10 6 ♣ A Q 10 9 8 7 | ♠ 9 4 2 ♥ 8 2 ♦ A Q 9 8 7 3 2 ♣ None |

The bidding:
West North East South
1 club 1 heart 1 spade 2 diamonds
Pass 2 hearts 3 diamonds 4 clubs
Double Pass Pass 4 diamonds
Pass Pass 4 spades 5 spades
Double Pass Pass 5 diamonds

East's bidding was pretty bad in that he at no time actually showed his terrific club support. His three diamond bid implied it, but his later persistence with spades was not helpful to his partner. Incidentally, his three diamond cut bid was too strong, considering his meager honor or trick holding. Six clubs would have been an absolute laydown, but West could not be blamed, under the circumstances, for doubling five diamonds. The spade three was opened and dummy's ace was played. Declarer immediately ruffed a club, cashed the diamond ace, and led to the dummy's jack, then ruffed dummy's last club. Now a heart was led toward dummy. The heart ace was marked in West's hand for his opening bid; hence, when West ducked, dummy's king was put up and a low heart was returned. East won with the queen, but could make no safe return. On a club lead, discarded a spade (or vice versa), whereas to lead the spade king was to confine defenders to one spade trick. Declarer's foresight in ruffing away dummy's two clubs before attacking hearts had insured his contract.

TOMORROW'S HAND

My Neighbor Says—

Amateur garden makers who have shady spots in their gardens will find much pleasure in the growing of dogtooth violet. The plant, have very interesting flowers, three inches across, the colors running from white to yellow and rose, and are attractive even after the flowers have passed because of the richly mottled leaves they bear. If possible, give them a loose, gritty soil, with plenty of leaf mold.

Make leftover rice into cakes, fry them in bacon fat and serve with maple syrup. They are delicious. (Copyright, 1938)

most of the moisture has disappeared, a hollow sound will be given out; if the earth is full of water the sound will be dull. One good way to water plants in small pots is to set the pots in a basin of water, leaving them until the top soil begins to change color, indicating that the moisture has reached it. It is always best to use lukewarm water. (Copyright, 1938)

Old Gardener Says:
The best way to water house plants is to give them a thorough soaking and then permit them to dry out partially before they are watered again. With a little experience the flower lover can tell by tapping the pot whether or not the soil has become dry. When

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST

By Dr. George W. Crane
Psychologist, Northwestern University

A few months ago a California physician committed suicide because he said he was failing his patients. Don't you believe it! I'll tell you his case was a twin for Dr. Kelsey's in today's problem. An hour's interview with the California physician could probably have remedied matters.

CASE L-148: Kelsey P., aged 35, is a brilliant physician and surgeon. "You know, I think, I'll give up my profession," he gloomily announced as we were dining together recently.

"My surgery is slipping and I feel that it is criminal to go on deluding my innocent patients who have utmost confidence in me."

"I just wasn't cut out for medicine, anyway, so I think I'll retire from the field, and leave it to better men than I. What would you advise, Dr. Crane?"

DIAGNOSIS:
This case is probably a twin for the one described in the newspaper some months ago where a California surgeon committed suicide because he said he was maiming his innocent patients and practicing an inferior brand of medicine, even though his colleagues denied his statements.

I have had a number of professional men with this same complex. Kelsey is not an inferior surgeon. The facts do not corroborate his self-depreciation.

Then why should he develop this defeatism complex? Why should he falsely accuse himself of deluding those patients who trust in his ability and judgment?

In other words, why should he think he is a failure as a physician in the face of obvious facts to the contrary? There must be a reason.

Psychological Transference
Kelsey is married and has two attractive youngsters. He is very fond of them. But his married life has been rather hectic. At the present time I happen to know that he and his wife are on the verge of divorce.

Being a combination of idealist as well as medical scientist, Kelsey is deeply worried over the injury to his children if a divorce takes place.

He feels that he will be guilty of betraying those innocent youngsters who have utmost confidence in him. Kelsey's wife, however, is the one who wants the divorce, for she is interested in another man.

Kelsey finds himself in an emotional muddle. He goes around brooding. First, he decides maybe it is best to let his wife get a divorce. Then he thinks about his children, and says he'll never permit it.

Like many fathers in such a situation, he is also inclined to dramatize the situation a bit, and become conscience-stricken over the affair, especially as he thinks of his children.

At this point he vaguely senses the similarity between his trusting patients and his own children. So a psychological transference takes place.

Misplaced Guilt
Kelsey suffers from a deep sense of guilt regarding his broken home. This guilty feeling carries over to his professional practice. There is nothing wrong with the scientific medicine which he practices.

He is simply deluding himself, not his patients. I have had such men from all professions who permitted their marital failures to carry over to their business fields.

It was said that Lincoln couldn't speak if his feet hurt him. Many other men fail in their businesses or professions because their marital life is unsatisfactory.

A few weeks ago in Case L-134 I described a man who was steadily failing in business simply because his wife's frigidity wounded his sex vanity, with a resulting inferiority that carried over to his business affairs. These are not at all uncommon transferences.

(Dr. Crane will give personal attention to queries on psychological problems. Write him, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a 3-cent stamped, addressed envelope. Real names and readers' names are never published.)

Don't Marry The Man

By Jeanne Bowman

The Characters
Kathleen Gregory: young, red-haired member of the Gregory clan which owns The Golden Girl mine, traveling west in cognito.

Bridget Riley: her companion. Donald MacDonald: owner of The Stubbard Boy mine, hates the Gregorys, Kathleen especially.

Yesterday: Outside the town of Neutrality Kathleen meets MacDonald for the first time and immediately quarrels with him.

Chapter Six Neutrality
"SO YOU can't take it," observed Bridget, then she started to laugh.

"I don't know what you're laughing at," spat Kathleen.

"Just remembering a remark of yours. All you'd need would be propinquity. If you two had been any nearer there'd been a combustion they'd have heard in Spain."

Kathleen relaxed and laughed with her. "I might as well give up," she said ruefully. "I haven't a chance now."

"Himm," mused Bridget. "Vapid flapper. Well, maybe you're right. However it would be too bad, you've made such an excellent beginning."

"Excellent," echoed Kathleen. "Umhmm. If MacDonald ever has a suspicion that you came out to vamp a right-of-way from him, he'll smother it. He'll know you would never have started with a verbal club."

Kathleen made no comment. They had topped a sharp rise and Neutrality lay below. Neutrality consisted of a single street, straight at one end, at the other curving into the distance.

The straight end was evidently the business thoroughfare, one side at least. The left side was brightly lighted. Colored signs whirled before plate glass windows. A queue of people waited before the entrance of a motion picture theater.

The lights on the right side were few and far between. The shops looked drowsy, ill kept. Even the pavement was full of holes.

Bridget, who had been reading signs, burst out with a sudden, "Cleo, do you realize everything on the left side is MacDonald and on the right, Gregory? Look at the signs."

Kathleen groaned. She had been looking at signs; hotel signs. The MacDonald had a tiled front, yellow lights and the windows of the grill room were steamy with the promise of warm food.

The Gregorys boasted only a blue globe above the entrance, a dim lobby beyond. A lunch counter with high stools opened out to the curb. Bridget followed her into the lobby, across a linoleum covered floor, where a shirt-sleeved proprietor leaned across the desk, resignation in his eyes.

"Two rooms with a connecting bath," ordered Kathleen.

"Sorry ma'am, but there ain't but one tub in the house and I don't know as you could get it to, tonight."

"Does the MacDonald have more than one tub?" she demanded.

"Well, if you want to be known as one of them stiff-necked, it ain't no business of mine. Folks who come to Neutrality have to be one or the other. Can't straddle fences in these parts."

He closed the register and sat back, mouth pleated into lines of displeasure.

"You mean a person has to be a MacDonald or Gregory? What do the commercial men do?"

"Would a room with twin beds suffice?"

"With an adjoining bath, a hay-mow would suffice." Kathleen informed him fervently.

The room did not resemble a haymow. After the sketchy tour—she had found out long ago that this way it seemed luxurious. Forgetting her role, Kathleen tipped the bellhop as though he were responsible for its comfort, then laying her purse on a dresser, uttered a shrill laugh. Like the horn of the MacDonald car, the laugh grew in intensity until it verged on hysteria.

Catamount in Person
Alarmed, Bridget whirled Kathleen away from the mirror. "What are you laughing at?"

"I... I just learned what a catamount looked like," confessed Kathleen, and as Bridget hurried away to draw the hot tub she hoped would quell hysterics, Kathleen did not add, "So much for my dreams of blinding him with my beauty at first sight."

Half an hour later, enveloped in a camel's-hair robe the shade of her hair; that hair curled in tiny ringlets by the steam, her cheeks pink, she curled up on the bed to relax in sensuous pleasure.

The storm had struck. She had spent a few moments at the window watching the pyrotechnical display of weird blue lights which revealed mountains towering above

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, engaging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 2 percent of their blood.

Frequent or overly pungent use of enemas and purgatives tends to make matters worse. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood, and causes rheumatism, backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness and the like.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. They are the best and will rid you of 15 miles of kidney tubes which out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

State Society Warns Whooping Cough May be Fatal to Infant

Madison—Whooping cough is a serious and fatal disease in infancy and early childhood," the State medical society said in its weekly health bulletin.

"The younger the infant, the more dangerous it is for him to have whooping cough. Infants of but one or two months have been known to contract whooping cough and the mortality rate in the young is shockingly high. That is particularly important when one realizes that fully half the reported cases of whooping cough occur in the first three years of life.

"Permanent immunity, that is lasting protection, is conferred usually by one attack. A second attack practically never occurs in childhood. But occasionally, a second attack may occur in adult life. When this does happen, it is usually in women who are taking care of children who have the disease.

Three Stages

"Whooping cough is an acute, contagious disease and is characterized by three stages or periods in its course:

1. The catarrhal or 'cold' stage. This lasts about ten days. There are the usual symptoms of a 'common cold' such as a running nose and a cough with possibly a little fever. The cough is noted especially during the night.
2. The paroxysmal or spasmodic cough stage. This stage may last from three to five weeks. There are spells of coughing—often worse at night. These spells may be frequent or they may occur only three or four times in twenty-four hours—and there may be no whoop. If the spasms or spells of coughing

When Bridget came in from her bath, Kathleen was at the desk. "Wiring for a rescue crew!" she asked lightly.

"No," murmured Kathleen. "I'm drawing plans for a new Gregory House. It's going to be a honey."

Look of pride and tenderness came into the eyes of the Irish girl, but there was only flippancy in her voice. "Two baths to every room?"

"And a free-for-all showers in the foyer," supplemented Kathleen. "Do I hear the rattle of dishes?"

There was a hubbub at the door, a waitress behind him, Kathleen looked up to find pale blue eyes focused on her in wide admiration; the tray in the uplifted hand slanting at a perilous angle.

LAWRENCE COLLEGE FOOTBALL SQUAD ISN'T VERY LARGE BUT IT HAS POWER

Here's the Lawrence college football squad which battles Carroll college Saturday afternoon at George A. Whiting field in the feature attraction of the annual homecoming celebration. The Vikings have been doing quite well to date in their football wars with four wins, three over strong Midwest conference opponents. But whether the spirit of homecoming and the final home game of the season can offset numerous injuries and bruises remains to be seen. This week Coach Bernie Heseltin, in his first year at

Lawrence, has been drilling his charges on pass defense and his ball carriers on low to take advantage of interference. The final workout of the week is scheduled for this evening at which time the offensive assignment will be stressed.

Josephs May be Lost but Wallenfang Is Doing Well in His Place

GREEN BAY—When Green Bay East steps onto the City stadium turf Friday night against the Appleton Terrors, the occasion will mark the Red Devils' 100th Fox River Valley conference football game, and they'll attempt to acquire their 26th consecutive victory to celebrate.

Currently, the Appleton-East mix is the most important thing on the local high school calendar. West is favored to beat Fond du Lac, but by no such a margin as it wandered through the week Sheboygan Central team here last Friday.

East also is picked over Appleton, this idea depending upon the Terrors' effectiveness in halting the burning Red Devil overhead game. East suffered a blow last week when Don Josephs, senior quarterback, was injured early in the Oshkosh game, and Coach Tom Hearden wasn't positive yesterday that Josephs will be able to play against Appleton, although the coach thinks he will.

Played Fine Game
Fortunately, George Wallenfang came through with a great game at Oshkosh after replacing Josephs, and guided the Red Devils to both their touchdowns in the 13 to 0 victory. Wallenfang will start at quarterback Friday if Josephs' injury keeps him on the shelf.

East acquired no other ailments, and the squad generally is in excellent condition. Once the Appleton game is past, the team can ease up a bit, for it only will have games against the two Sheboygan outfits prior to the East-West struggle Nov. 9. West, once Fond du Lac is disposed of, has only Oshkosh between it and the annual intra-city clash.

Holds Job Well
Hearden made no shifts in personnel this week, announcing that all of his regulars are holding their jobs well. With 23 consecutive victories tucked away, the Red Devils now are working under considerable pressure. Hearden is gunning for the state record of 31, set at Milwaukee East division by Bernie Heseltin, present Lawrence college mentor, several seasons ago.

TERRORS ON PASS DEFENSE
Appleton High school gridders worked against forward passes last evening at the West Spencer street field as they prepared for Friday night's invasion of Green Bay City stadium to meet East. The Terrors had only one loss in their efforts and Bill Burt had had the finest of a Benny Allard or other members of the East backfield.

Heinritz has rejoined the Terror squad after missing a couple of drills and while Sample was out he wasn't being used in any capacity.

After a session at stopping passes the Terrors took the ball and tossed a few with George Swamp doing most of the heaving.

Marquette 11 at Full Strength for Struggle
Milwaukee—(U)—The Marquette university football squad, restored to full strength for the first time in three weeks, went through tapering-off workouts today for Saturday's game here with undefeated Texas Christian.

All injured members of the squad were in uniform yesterday as Coach Paddy Driscoll staged the final heavy offensive scrimmage in brisk weather that keyed up the gridders.

As a precautionary measure Eddie Niemi, senior center who has recovered from a leg injury, was kept on the sidelines.

Pro Grid Notes
Detroit — When 42,850 customers showed up to watch the Detroit-Washington game at Briggs Stadium here last Sunday, Detroit became the third National Football league city to establish a new attendance record this year. Previously, the Redskins and the New York Giants attracted 37,500 clients to set a new mark in Washington and the Lions and Packers drew 24,000 customers to hang up a new record in Green Bay.

Cleveland — Bob Davis, the Cleveland Rams' nifty halfback recruited from the University of Kentucky, surprised his teammates recently by eloping to Louisville where he married Miss Jean McVean of the Philippine Islands.

GREEN BAY — Cecil Isbell and Byron (Whizzer) White, the two greatest halfbacks in 1937 intercollegiate football, will be opponents here Sunday when the Green Bay Packers rub noses with Johnny Blood's Pittsburgh Pirates in a National Football league game at the City stadium. The kickoff is at 2 o'clock.

The tilt with the Pirates is a fitting climax to the Packers' home season and Coach E. L. Lambeau of Green Bay hopes to ring the going with another victory before the team takes the road for games against Cleveland, Chicago Bears, Detroit and New York.

Isbell to Get Trophy
Isbell will be specially honored this Sunday as the New York World's fair trophy for being the outstanding gridders in the Chicago Tribune All Star game at Soldiers field, Aug. 31, will be awarded to the Packers' newest backfield sensation.

Arch Ward, sport editor of the Chicago Tribune, will make the presentation to Isbell while Christy Walsh, World's fair sport director, will also be on hand to take part in the ceremonies and extend the glad hand to the famous graduate from Purdue.

This will be the first game that Isbell and White have ever played against each other and the football experts are licking their chops in anticipation of the backfield duel between the two super-stars. It will be a football exhibition worth going miles to see and, from the way the tickets are selling, there will be some 20,000 spectators in the "ringside" seats at the City stadium.

Blood Pilot
Johnny Blood, once the toast of Green Bay for his pass-grabbing ability, is in the midst of his second year as pilot for the Pirates. His Pittsburghers have two notable victories to their credit this season. Brooklyn was taken into camp by a 17 to 3 count while New York bit the dust to the tune of 13 to 10. Both these contests were staged in the metropolitan area.

Walter Kiesling, a Packer guard on the 1936 championship team, is serving as assistant coach of the Pirate squad. He handles the line and every once in a while steps into action himself when the going gets rough. In his day "Kies" was one of the best forwards that ever flanked a snapper-back.

DANOWSKI TOP PASSER
Ed Danowski, New York Giants ace forward passer, further entrenched himself in first place in the closest race the aerial department has developed in the history of the National Football league, according to statistics for the sixth week of play. Big Ed, former Fordham flash, has completed 45 out of 76 passes for 523 yards for a 59 per cent average.

By continuing his present race, Danowski will establish two new individual records for the season. He is two passes a game ahead of the 1937 schedule of Sammy Baugh, who completed 81 passes for a new National League mark a year ago, and he will also shade by a few yards Baugh's 11 game mark of 1,127 yards gained on completions.

There are five players in the league who have an average of 50 per cent or better, unprecedented at this stage of the race. Jack Robbins, Arkansas slinger in his first year of professional football with the Chicago Cardinals, jumped to second in passing this week with 40 completions out of 73 tosses for 474 yards and a 54 per cent average. Baugh is third with 23 out of 38 for 60 per cent.

White Leads Ground Gainers
Although Whizzer White, Pittsburgh, and Max Krause, Washington, were idle last Sunday, no one ousted them from first and second place in ground gaining. White has 212 yards to his credit and Krause 207. Scrapper Farrell, recently traded from Pittsburgh to Brooklyn, improved his third place position by joining White and Krause in the 200 yard club, but his 201 yards was just seven yards short of taking over Krause's second place.

Don Hutson, Green Bay end, and Ward Cuff, Giants back, broke their first place tie in scoring and field goal kicking and now hold undisputed honors in these departments. Hutson has tallied 31 points, and is being pressed by Clarke Hinkle, a Green Bay teammate, who has 29 points. Cuff and Andy Farkas, Washington, are tied for third with 25 points each. Cuff has booted four field goals to lead Ralph Kercheval, Brooklyn by one. There was no change in the first three positions in pass receiving. Gannell Tinsley, Cardinals, boosted his total to 26 catches. Hutson is second with 20, and Bill Smith, Cardinals, and Joe Carter, Philadelphia, are tied for third with 14 each.

Weyauwega High to Play First Game of Six-Man Football
Weyauwega — The Weyauwega High school 6-man football squad and all students are anxiously waiting for tomorrow when Weyauwega plays its first game in the history of the school. It also will be the first chance for many Weyauwega people to see a 6-man football game. The boys will be in their new suits. The game will be with Bear Creek at 3 o'clock on the fair grounds. The Weyauwega High school band will play and will do some maneuvering.

The Weyauwega stars are Le Roy Grancobitz and Gilman Hertz as ends, Ralph Gehrke, center, Howard Radtke, quarterback, Bill Hanamann, Lloyd Nelson or Kenneth Prentice as halfbacks or Ken-

Medwick "Almost Sure" to Be With Reds Next Season

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK — (U)—Marquette hasn't got a football captain, but it has no less than 20 high school captains on its varsity squad. . . Lou Smith, who usually knows what he is talking about, writes in the Cincinnati Inquirer that Joe Medwick is almost a "sure shot" to wear a Red uniform next season. . . What do you mean "almost"? . . . Mike Jacobs is due back from the east Friday with an important announcement relative to a Joe Louis-Max Baer bout in San Francisco in the spring.

Apparently running doesn't run in the San Roman family. . . Archie who used to do his stuff on the track (and how) for Emporia, Kans., Teachers, has a brother, Ericdo, who plays a cornet and mends watches, also at Emporia. . . Living up to its reputation for brother combinations, South Carolina had two of them against Davidson last week. . . If Frankie Frisch catches on with the Giants, don't be surprised. . . That's what the New York papers are saying. . .

Imagine the guy's surprise: On sitting down to rest at ball-time, Jack Dorflinger, South Carolina tackle, landed on a burr (you'll do that sometimes, you know). . . And in the next period he drove right through to touchdown. . . Elmer Hackney, Kansas State's fine fullback, it so jittery they won't let him start a game. . . I can't understand why Grimes, Durocher and all these guys get so steamed up over managing the Dodgers. . . None of them has lasted more than a year or so. . . Les Breckner of Michigan State is a fair weather football player—and admits it. . . In his six years of football (four in high school) he has yet to play on a rainy day. . .

In four games played to date, Arkansas has scored five touchdowns on passes, with five different sophomores making their pay-off catches.

Lawrence Gridders Work on Defense as They Prepare for Annual Homecoming Struggle

LAWRENCE college football squad got in another long evening of defense against forward passes last evening at Whiting field as it prepared for its homecoming struggle with Carroll college here Saturday afternoon.

Girded with the knowledge that Carroll uses a lot of passes, Coach Bernie Heseltin spent considerable time with all of his backs and if they let a runner get behind them it won't be because Heseltin didn't warn them and show them.

The Vike mentor also laid much emphasis on the interception of passes by the Vikes and if some of the lads don't catch one or two and gallop for fair gains it will be surprising. Heseltin also reminded his charges that their record against passes this season has been good, far better than that of any team the Vikes have met.

Vikes Confident
There's no wild-eyed feeling about homecoming on the part of the Viking gridders. The game means a lot and all that but they intend to take it in stride with confidence born of the knowledge they have a great offense and that they aren't the worst team on defense. A bit of polishing here or there will make them tough.

The week's drills also have seen Heseltin working with his backs on interference. He pointed out that in several cases last week the attack stumbled because the ball carrier was too far from his interference and that there was no way of setting up an opponent for a block. Tuesday evening the squad held a semi-scrimmage in which the fine points of blocking and interference were threshed out.

Because several key members of the club are taking their workouts under heat lamps and in hot baths in the hopes of hurrying injuries to the point where they won't be too troublesome, Heseltin has been spending a lot of time on reserves. At least five members of his starting eleven are nursing bruises and bumps and on whether they hold together Saturday depends the outcome of the game.

Scouting information on the Pioneers also has been rehearsed at length and there is hardly a member of the squad who doesn't know

Pioneers Point For Win Saturday
Ned Demming, New London, May be Given Starting Assignment

Waukesha—Carroll's string of 19 games in which they have been undefeated was broken last Saturday by Lake Forest college. Carroll plans to invade Appleton this Saturday to atone for the bitter 13-7 defeat ministered by the Foresters.

It was on an October afternoon in 1935 that Carroll College defeated Lake Forest 19-7 and began the long march of 17 victories and two tie games that lasted until the same school that started the string broke it last Saturday, the first victory the Foresters have ever scored over the Pioneers.

Carroll outplayed Lake Forest for 57 minutes of the game, gaining 13 first downs to the Foresters' three. But a long pass completed on the Carroll one-half yard line and a Carroll fumble, recovered by Lake Forest on the Carroll one-half yard stripe, both in the first three minutes of the game, led to rapid-fire touchdowns. Though the Pioneers fought back the rest of the game they couldn't overcome the lead.

The Pioneers, even in defeat, however, looked the strongest that they have all season. They failed to get the breaks they have had in previous games but their attack, particularly along the ground looked the best it has all year. Coach John Breen will attempt this week to close up a weak pass offense, which is completed only five out of 22 tosses.

The guard situation looks far from promising. Oscar Perron, Waukesha, a guard and the only two-letter man on the squad, was hospitalized after the Lake Forest game because of exhaustion and a head injury and is not expected to play against Lawrence. Pat Higgins, Milwaukee, other regular guard, did not play Saturday because of a bad leg which is not showing improvement. To strengthen this spot, Breen is planning to shift Bob Jacobson, 185 pound fullback from Vicksburg, Miss., into the line.

On the strength of his offensive showing Saturday against the Foresters, Ned Demming, New London, Wis., halfback, may get the starting call at this post against the Vikings. Harvey Maahs, Beloit, and Louis Beach, Evanston, Ill., are the other possibilities as left-half starters.

Boxer Facing Charge in Death of His Opponent
Rockland, Me. — (U)—Roy Worcester, Bangor heavyweight, faced arraignment today on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death of 21 year old Henry L. King, Worcester, Mass., fighter in a 10-round bout.

King, one-time New England amateur champ, collapsed and died as the bell rang ending his match with Worcester last night.

He fell just after taking a blow on the head, but State Police Lieutenant J. King had "started to crumple" before the blow landed. King, who would have observed his 22nd birthday tomorrow, weighed 120, Worcester 205.

what his opponents are apt to do under certain conditions.

Punting Gets Attention
Novakowski's punting has come in for a few corrections this week, too, in the hopes that he'll get a little of the yardage he has gotten in past seasons. In some instances linemen haven't been carrying out assignments, the passes from center have been slow and Obbie has been inclined to kick across the ball instead of booting straight into it.

The Viking dressing room is fairly well pasted up with reports on the Pioneers from downstate scribes who have seen the team in action. Each writeup has notations by Heseltin. Also, the chart of last week's win over Monmouth is posted with several comments indicating the Vike mentor wasn't exactly

Four of First Ten Grid Teams Will be Tested Saturday

Others to Have Comparatively Easy Sailing; Gophers Idle

NEW YORK—The struggle for the mythical national football championship, a prize as hard to nail as Red Grange was in an open field, cases off a bit Saturday. Of the ten teams leading the Associated Press poll, only four head into heavy weather.

If things are less hectic for the leaders, there is no peace in the second ten where the schedule promises plenty of action and consequent changes in the rankings.

California, third, Notre Dame, fifth, Santa Clara, sixth, and Syracuse, tenth, are the leaders facing the sternest opposition.

The Golden Bears oppose Washington, due to bust out and win a big one; Notre Dame meets Carnegie Tech, always tough for the Irish and tougher than ever after smearing Holy Cross' unblemished record; Santa Clara takes on Arkansas, a team that can and will pass at every opportunity, and Syracuse must battle not only the inevitable let down following the Cornell game but a rough, tough Michigan State team.

Gophers Idle
The others have what looks like easy sailing. Minnesota is in. The Gophers don't play. Pitt meets Southern Methodist. The Panthers are ranked first in the poll, having a wide margin over Minnesota.

Dartmouth, voted fourth place, plays Harvard in an ivy-entwined encounter. The Harvards possess no tailback who can feint, spin and haven't approached last year's form.

Marquette faces a stiff assignment against seventh place Texas Christian, whose three musketeers— tackle I. B. Hale, center K. Aldrich and back Davey O'Brien—are as good as any trio on the gridiron. Tennessee and Duke, eighth and ninth, face respectively the Citadel and Wake Forest.

The intersection angle, already well stressed in the top ten, is just as prevalent in games in which second ten teams figure.
Fordham, which rolled up terrific yardage but only one touchdown against Purdue, meets an Oregon team anxious to make up for its failure against Stanford, and Michigan plays Yale in two of the best intercollegiate games. Michigan may be tired after a grueling battle with Minnesota while Yale is beginning to find out what its all about after nipping Navy. Fordham ranks eleventh, Michigan twelfth.

Bama Vs. Sewanee
One of the day's toughest struggles is the Nebraska-Oklahoma game in which the Cornhuskers come to come back against the Sooners, placed in the fourteenth slot by the nationwide poll of writers. Another comebacker, Alabama, plays Sewanee and hopes to improve on its fifteenth position, while Vanderbilt, ranked sixteenth, meets Louisiana State, an in-and-out football team.
Bulle. Bill Patterson of Baylor carries the Bears' offense against Texas A. and M.'s forces in one of those Southwest conference games that drive football selectors to nursing homes. Northwestern, ranked eighteenth behind Baylor, has no set-up in Illinois, but North Carolina expects to rest up against Davidson. Villanova, the twentieth club, has plenty to handle in Detroit Sunday.

it or not, the Post-Crescent. The win was all the more impressive for the newspaper boys had but four men mulling. Marvin Wasserbach paced the team with a 501 series as it moved out of the cellar. Chet Merkle was "high" for the losers with a 493 count.

Pond Sports started fast and won the first game but Atlas Printer came to life and won the next two. Wally Klein slammed a 203 game and 570 series while J. Zapp smashed 224 and A. Meyer bagged 204 for the winners. Myron Soms tallied 530 for Ponds.

Co-champions of last year met with Woolen Mills dropping two games to Johnson Shoe Rebuilders. Wilbur Strutz paved the way for the winners with games of 235 and 243 for his high series and O. Strutz showed a 201 game. Ray Crane exploded the maples for games of 203 and 237 for a 621 series to pace the losing team.

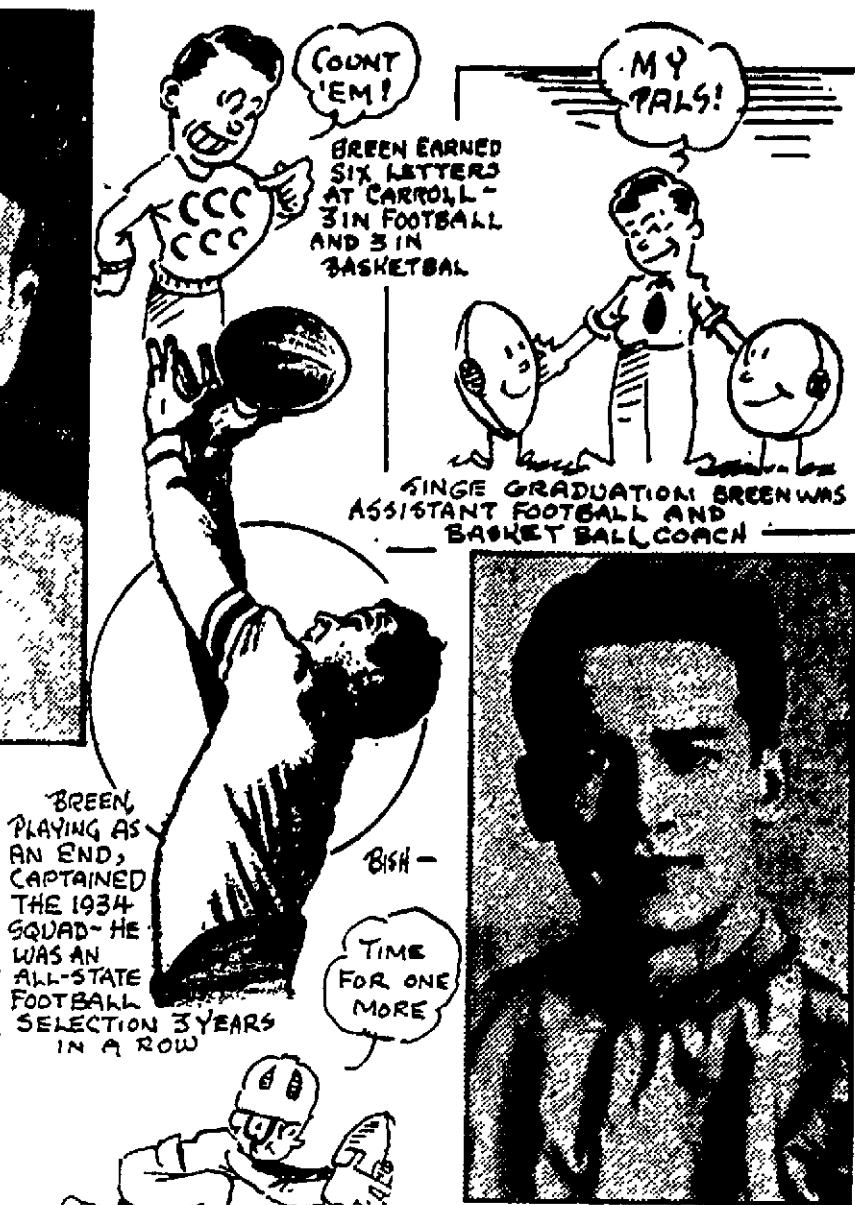

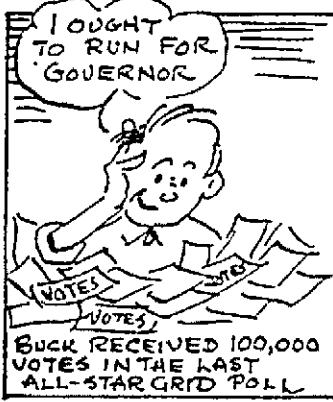

Schubert Supply Co. won the odd game from Appleton Machine Co. though its total pinage was lower than that of the losers. Clarence Below bowled a 434 series for winners and Wally Eckert hit 503 for the Machine crew.

Flank's Dandy Rollers took two from Coated Paper as Clem Kitzinger thumped a 514 series. John Moll spilled games of 217 and 212 for a 599 total and T. Fischer scored a 211 game for the losing quintet.

The Fox River-Power Co. match was postponed.
Detroit—Graham T. Overgard, director of the 120 piece Wayne University band which performed at the Washington Redskins-Detroit Lions game last Sunday, has developed a new instrument which produces an authentic lion's roar. Another band feature at the gala professional football premier at Briggs Stadium was the use of the largest bass drum ever manufactured. It is 74 inches high and 24 inches wide and is moved around on a four-wheeled cart.

CARROLL COACHES ARE "PURE HOME TALENT"

A new head coach, John Breen, and a new assistant coach, Art Buck, are handling the Carroll college football team this fall and both are graduates and former athletes at the Pioneer school. Breen, successor to Elmer Lampe, graduated from Carroll in February, 1935, after winning six letters in football and basketball. Buck received his appointment as Breen's assistant 24 hours after graduating last June. He boasts nine letters, three in basketball, three in football, and three in track. Both Breen and Buck were all-state selection in both football and in basketball. Breen has been assistant coach since his graduation. Carroll plays Lawrence here Saturday in the feature of the annual Viking Homecoming.

E. W. BOCK thumped a 256 game and D. Lehman pinned a 632 series for individual honors during Western League matches at Elks alleys last night. Stanford collected 997 and Washington collaborated on a 2,822 team series for high marks.

Utah took over undisputed possession of first place as the result of a 3-game victory over Montana. W. McKee was high for the winners with a 214 game and 594 series and J. Engel bagged a 203 game. Goldberg topped the losers with a 204 game and 587 series.

Oregon grand slammed California as Bock fired his big game and a 597 series. T. Long bolstered the attack with a 236 game and F. Larson tallied a 212 game. Getschew paced the losers with a 530 series.

Win Three Games
Washington made it three straight over Gonzaga with Lehman smashing games of 232 and 215 for a 632 total. Reinke thumping 202 and 227 and Thompson hitting 206.

J. Hornke rolled a 539 series and 202 game and M. Reif showed a 203 game for Gonzaga.

St. Mary won the odd game from Santa Clara as Greb piled up a 556 series. M. Herner tallied a 525 series for the losing quintet.

The Bat Becomes Tough Man Of Menasha Grunting Card

BY RANDY HASE
MENASHA—The Bat, mystery man of wrestling, made a brief appearance in the ring at the wrestling show at S. A. Cook armory—in fact, he was in the ring just 9 minutes. In that time however, he took two falls from Dickie Gerber, middleweight champion of Indiana.

The Bat used a savage headlock for both of his falls, forcing Gerber to give up. He went to work with a vicious thoroughness that left no doubt about the outcome. The Bat was introduced with appropriate circumstances. All of the lights were out when he entered the ring. He was garbed in tights, shirt with long sleeves and a mask, all in black. Even his robe carried out the bat theme for it had wings in a bat-like effect.

The crowd was all for Gerber and roared approval in the short second fall when the Indiana grappler attempted to rip the mask from the face of the Bat. Most of Gerber's efforts were confined to trying to escape the punishing headlock. He gave up the first time after 6 minutes and the second time after 3 minutes. The crowd made many guesses as to the identity of the Bat, some conjecturing that it was Joe Dorsetti while others thought it was Vic Weber who appeared here last season.

Jungle Joe Bauer and Buzz Reynolds engaged in a fast match with Reynolds taking two of the three falls. The fans were impartial in their cheering for the two and a fast bout followed. The bout would hardly be called clean but both handed out punishment equally.

Bauer lost the first fall after 25 minutes of milling when Reynolds applied a toe hold. Reynolds lost the second fall in 12 minutes when Bauer applied a body press. With only three minutes remaining in the hour time limit, the action got fast with both grapplers using their fists more than wrestling holds. Bauer had the better of the milling until Reynolds applied a back drop. He took the deciding fall after just one minute of tangle.

Louie Rodick and Tubby Reinhardt went to a draw in the 30 minute bout. The bout was slow with the two grapplers getting so tangled up with each other in holds that one spectator yelled, "See the two-headed man."

Swan Twice As Large
The average length of the snow goose is twenty-three inches and the average length of the swan is fifty-two inches—in other words, the swan is more than twice the length of the snow goose. A comparison which would be understood by the average hunter, the snow goose is much smaller than the average Canadian honker.

The snow goose in the adult stage is pure white, with black primary wing feathers; in flight this black tip to the wing is quite conspicuous. The young may be more or less grayish-brown on the wings, head, back and neck, and sometimes both adult and juvenile are stained a rusty reddish-brown from contact with iron impregnated water. The bill and feet are reddish in color.

The whistling swan is solid white over all, no black plumage. The young may be flecked with light ashy grey and both ages show reddish rust stains, but the main point is that there is no black tip to the wings. The feet are black. In appearance it is just like the big white swans so frequently seen in public parks.

"Trumpeters" Unusual
I have watched flights of snow geese over the marshlands of South Dakota during the autumn period and observed trumpeter swans in the region of the Great Lakes while hunting ducks. The latter bird is the most interesting to me as its successful hunt is as fascinating and the sound of their "trumpet" is unique when heard during their feeding time at dawn.

These trumpeters are now protected and no open season is granted for killing them. Their number seems to be holding well, but no definite increase in their population warrants an open season. The fact of the swan is said to be delicious but that is supposed to be known only to the pioneer hunter who could shoot them as they visited certain areas of their migratory flight each fall. No doubt we will never see another open season on swans—and that is as it should be, for these fine birds are better adapted "for show" on the lakes of the country than on display on a camp platter.

Waupaca May be Ski Headquarters

Bids for Central Wisconsin Ski Club Offices For 1939
Rosholt—The Central Wisconsin Ski Club will ask the Central United States Ski association to approve Jan. 8 as the date for the club's annual ski tournament at the Peru slide near here, it was decided at a meeting attended by 40 club members.

Amherst and Waupaca placed bids for the 1939 club headquarters and the matter will be considered at a directors' meeting scheduled for Wednesday night, Oct. 26. Wendell McHenry of Waupaca said the Association of Commerce there planned to build a slide on the outskirts of the city.

Lester Peterson, president of the Central club, suggested Iola, Amherst, Rosholt and Stevens Point, which have junior slides, organize a high school ski jumping conference similar to football and basketball circuits.

LeMoine Batson, Berwyn, Ill., school teacher and former U. S. Olympic rider who has skied for the Central club in Class A for several years, may not be available this year because of injuries received in two meets last year. Peterson reported.

The annual ski school, held for the first time last year on the local club's slide, will be sponsored by the Chequamegon club of Washburn this year, it was reported. Central U. S. officers were pleased with the treatment received here.

THE SWAN AND SNOW GOOSE

By Cal Johnson
QUITE frequently during the waterfowl season sportsmen are aroused by the report that some careless hunter has killed a whistling swan or trumpeter in the belief that he had shot a snow goose. The killing of a snow goose during the proper season is perhaps worthy of comment, but when the so-called "snow goose" is conspicuous for its large size the bird is not a goose, but a swan.

There are two unmistakable points of difference in the birds—size and absence of black in the wing plumage.

There are two forms of the snow goose, the lesser and the greater, but the difference in size is so small that it would mean nothing to the average hunter. There are also two swans—the whistling and the trumpeter—but again the difference is so small that only a skilled ornithologist would be able to distinguish between them. But between snow geese and either swan the difference in size is so great that there can be no excuse for mistaking one for the other.

Swan Twice As Large
The average length of the snow goose is twenty-three inches and the average length of the swan is fifty-two inches—in other words, the swan is more than twice the length of the snow goose. A comparison which would be understood by the average hunter, the snow goose is much smaller than the average Canadian honker.

The snow goose in the adult stage is pure white, with black primary wing feathers; in flight this black tip to the wing is quite conspicuous. The young may be more or less grayish-brown on the wings, head, back and neck, and sometimes both adult and juvenile are stained a rusty reddish-brown from contact with iron impregnated water. The bill and feet are reddish in color.

The whistling swan is solid white over all, no black plumage. The young may be flecked with light ashy grey and both ages show reddish rust stains, but the main point is that there is no black tip to the wings. The feet are black. In appearance it is just like the big white swans so frequently seen in public parks.

"Trumpeters" Unusual
I have watched flights of snow geese over the marshlands of South Dakota during the autumn period and observed trumpeter swans in the region of the Great Lakes while hunting ducks. The latter bird is the most interesting to me as its successful hunt is as fascinating and the sound of their "trumpet" is unique when heard during their feeding time at dawn.

These trumpeters are now protected and no open season is granted for killing them. Their number seems to be holding well, but no definite increase in their population warrants an open season. The fact of the swan is said to be delicious but that is supposed to be known only to the pioneer hunter who could shoot them as they visited certain areas of their migratory flight each fall. No doubt we will never see another open season on swans—and that is as it should be, for these fine birds are better adapted "for show" on the lakes of the country than on display on a camp platter.

Menasha Pupils Will be Tested For Tuberculosis

Junior, Senior High School Students in Program This Year

Menasha—Preliminary plans for the third year of the tuberculin testing program in the public and parochial schools of the city have been made by the Menasha Health Council, which along with the Winnebago County Medical Society, sponsors the program. Funds for the program are provided by the county.

All children of the Menasha Junior and Senior High schools, the Menasha Vocational school, St. Mary Junior and Senior High school and children in the seventh and eighth grades of the parochial schools are to be included in the testing program this year.

Although the arrangements are only tentative, the testing program probably will begin during the week of Nov. 7. All physicians of the city again will cooperate in giving the tests. While the tests have all been given at the Jefferson school in the past, arrangements may be made to give them at the new high school building this year.

532 Tested Last Year

During the second year of the tuberculin testing program in 1937 under the direction of the Winnebago County Medical Society together with the Menasha health department and local physicians, tuberculin tests were provided for 532 children.

Of that number 16 were found to be positive reactors. In every instance these children were given a thorough physical examination and x-rays were provided as well as hospitalization where it was deemed advisable by the family physician. The work of the school health instructor, Mrs. Sigrid Dudley, last year in tuberculosis control included 11 admissions to nursing service, four x-ray examinations, eight to physicians, one admission to a sanatorium and 17 field nursing visits.

During the first year of the program in 1936, 1,274 Menasha school children received the tuberculin tests. High school students again will assist the physicians in making the tests.

"All those who had tests last year should repeat them except those who had positive reactions," Dr. L. S. Shemanski, city physician, declared. "The x-rays of the lungs will be provided also."

Further plans for the tuberculin testing program will be completed at future meetings of the Menasha health council. Parents again will be requested to sign permit slips so that the children may receive the tests.

Workers Attend Red Cross Session

Four Menasha Women Participate in Regional Meeting

Menasha—Four Menasha women represented the Menasha chapter of the American Red Cross at a regional meeting for roll call workers at Madison Wednesday. They were Mrs. Charles Campbell, 348 Broad street; Mrs. Russell Anderson, 348 Broad street; Mrs. Morgan Vanderhyden, 735 Keyes street, and Mrs. H. O. Fenner, 338 Oak street.

The meeting was held at the Lorain hotel in Madison. Morning sessions were devoted to discussion by roll call leaders present. N. J. Hughes, national legal council of the American Red Cross from Washington, D. C., spoke at the noon luncheon meeting. The largest membership in the Red Cross for Wisconsin since 1920, 143,495 persons, was reported for 1938.

Mrs. Andrew J. Hopfensperger, 300 Winnebago avenue, has been named chairman of the annual roll call drive for Menasha. The drive will start on Armistice day, Nov. 11. Mrs. Hopfensperger has conferred with ward captains to take charge of the roll call and will meet with the workers next week. Preliminary plans for conducting the campaign will be formed.

Menasha—Seven persons escaped serious injury in an accident at the intersection of Highways 10 and 114 about 11 o'clock last night in which two automobiles collided, one knocking over a telephone pole and a cement mail box and rolling over three times.

Mothers Discuss Child Discipline

Four Members of Washington PTA Study Club Conduct Panel

Neenah—Parents must realize that discipline as it concerns children is a process of teaching them how to live and how to be guided by standards that are made for the children by the parents, that individual differences must be taken into consideration and that children are not good or bad but learning human beings, were the important factors stressed by four members of the panel discussion on "Discipline" Wednesday afternoon in the Neenah library as another of the Mother's Study club sessions, sponsored by the Washington Parent-Teacher association, was held.

Members of the panel were Mrs. Fred Bentzen, chairman, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Harold Bowman and Mrs. G. N. Ducklow. Open forum discussion followed.

Discipline problems that arise from contrariness, anger and jealousy, lying and stealing and too many "bosses" were discussed in case history fashion by the members of the panel and suggested remedies were presented from the study and reading of the group. The problem of bribes and rewards was discussed.

Importance of parent self control, tolerance, patience, kindness, courtesy, and understanding were stressed as it was pointed out that many acts of the parents can weaken the child's faith and confidence in the sincerity of the parents.

Picard Scores 31 Points to Lead St. Mary Scoring

Zephyr Gridders Count 64 Points in Five Contests

Menasha—Fred Picard, left end, leads the St. Mary High school football team in scoring with 31 of the 64 points scored by the Zephyrs in five games. Picard has scored five touchdowns and one point after touchdown. The veteran end has scored in a variety of ways. In the first game against St. John High school he grabbed a blocked punt while it was still in the air and went over. Against St. Norbert, he caught a pass while in the Neenah game he scored once on a pass and another time on an end-around on a double reverse. The end-around also counted against St. John last Sunday.

Second place in the Zephyr scoring goes to Bill Resch, fullback, who has two touchdowns and two conversions for 14 points. Koerner, left halfback, has two touchdowns for 12 points and Schipferling has one touchdown for six points.

Gene Laux, St. Mary right halfback, has scored one point this season, a dropkick for the extra point. In three years of varsity competition, Laux has scored two points. He made one dropkick this year and one two years ago. Laux has been on the throwing end of several touchdown passes.

Clinch Title Tie

Against conference opponents the Zephyrs have scored 45 points while holding their opponents scoreless. The Zephyrs have clinched at least a tie for the conference title. When opponents have scored, the Zephyrs have failed to win games this year. Appleton scored one touchdown against them and the Zephyrs had to be content with a 6 to 6 tie. Neenah scored 14 points and gave the Zephyrs only 13 points to hand the St. Mary team its only defeat this year.

The Zephyrs will need their scoring punch Saturday afternoon when they clash with the strong Kimberly High school team of the Tri-county league. The game will be played at Butte des Morts field.

Menasha—Seven Banta Men's league keggers cracked games of better than 600 at the Hendy alleys Wednesday night with a 664 by H. Scholl topping the list. Scholl had lines of 243, 202 and 219 but had to surrender high game honors to W. MacFarlane who rolled a 258 count plus two lines of 195 each for a 648 total and second high series.

Other high series included N. Trossen 622, N. Smith 632, J. Ostrowski 636, M. Shaw 607 and Weisgerber 605.

High individual games included Fitzgibbon 215, N. Trossen 238, Wilderling 215, N. Smith 218 and 230, L. Pfankuch 211, C. VandenBranden 215, J. Ostrowski 233 and 240, Rundquist 238, Weisgerber 236, L. Roek 224, W. Fellner 212 and L. Maier 217.

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh—The following marriage license application was filed yesterday afternoon in the office of Arthur E. Hedke, Winnebago county clerk: John Lehl, route 1, Neenah, and Laura J. Woyak, route 3, Neenah.

Neenah scored 14 points and gave the Zephyrs only 13 points to hand the St. Mary team its only defeat this year.

The Zephyrs will need their scoring punch Saturday afternoon when they clash with the strong Kimberly High school team of the Tri-county league. The game will be played at Butte des Morts field.

Select Cast for 3-Act Comedy To be Staged at Neenah School

Neenah—The cast for the Neenah High school Thespians club's 3-act comedy, "Shirt Sleeves," was selected at a final tryout Wednesday afternoon. The cast is composed of 25 characters, 18 of which have principal roles.

Miss Ruth Chalmson, club faculty adviser, is directing the 3-act play of six scenes which was written by Charles Quimby Burdette. The play will be produced either during the latter part of November or the first part of December in the high school auditorium.

The cast of principal characters are LaRaine Johnson as Julia Rand, William Herziger as Franklin Rand, Christie Jersild as Diana Rand, Donald Jape as Donald Rand, Laurence Ward as Esther Rand, Jack Young as Norman Rand, Ruth Johnson as Kitty, Gregory Smith as Elmer, June Walthus as Claudia Scott, Eileen Sorenson as Midge Waring, Mike Tembell as Richard Crandall.

It is several years since Mr. Kloeppel has played for a dance but he used to have an orchestra that played for many dances in this section of the state. He has dusted off his harp to play for the policemen's ball.

Daily practices will be held in order that the play may be produced as soon as possible. The various committees to be in charge of the play will be selected next week. This will be the first 3-act play produced by the Thespians this year. The club already has staged a 1-act play.

German Municipal Authority to Talk At Chapel Tuesday

Max Brauer Widely Known Expert on City Administration

Max Brauer, famous German municipal administrator who was mayor of Altona, Germany, until forced from the country by the Nazi regime, will talk on "What Is Happening To The Youth of Germany?" at Lawrence college convocation Tuesday morning in Memorial chapel.

Born in Altona, he became mayor of that city of 300,000 after service at the front in the World war. His 10-year administration was marked by the building of vast housing and slum clearance projects, hospitals, stadia, schools, orphanages, municipal public utility plants, parks, and the like.

For 10 years, Brauer was a member of the Prussian senate and of the governing board of the Association of German Cities. His opposition to the Nazi party prevented his appointment as mayor of Berlin and he fled the country on Hitler's accession to power. His property was confiscated and he took refuge in France.

Brauer went to China in 1923, at the request of the League of Nations, as an adviser in municipal and provincial government. He has written a book regarded as a classic on municipal administration entitled "New Altona: Ten Years of City Administration, 1919-1929." He is now on a lecture tour of the United States.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Europe from 1918 to 1938
IV--CZECHOSLOVAKIA
When Benes went to Paris, and said there was a Czechoslovak nation," shouted Adolf Hitler, "Benes lied."
When Hitler said that, he was not speaking fairly. Benes went to France in 1918 and told the leaders of the Allied nations about the hopes of the Czechs and Slovaks, who had been under the rule of Thomas Masaryk, first president of Czechoslovakia.

Austria-Hungary for a long time. Benes asked the leaders to "recognize" the Czechoslovak nation. He described the work of Czech and Slovak soldiers who had taken arms against Germany and Austria-Hungary.
One of the things President Wilson tried to bring about was the right of people to decide their own future. If the Czechs and Slovaks did not want to be under the rule of Austria-Hungary, he was ready to stand for their freedom--and he did stand for it. The United States government recognized Czechoslovakia as a nation before the Armistice took place.
Often it is hard to say what should or should not be called "a nation." There is no doubt that the Allied leaders made mistakes, but they succeeded in freeing some groups from being ruled in a way they did not like.
When the World war broke out, Austria-Hungary was a so-called "nation," but it contained people who spoke many different languages, and a great number of them did not want to be in it. They asked for freedom, and it was given to them so far as it seemed possible. Austria-Hungary was split up, and part of it went to form four small nations, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Austria.
The first president of Czechoslovakia was Thomas Masaryk, an author and college professor. He was 68 years old when he took office. Clear-minded and friendly, Masaryk was well loved by his people, and was elected time and again. He resigned in 1935, and died last year. Czechoslovakia contained about 15,000,000 people before the frontiers were changed at the demand of Hitler. Most of them were content to live in the country, but some of the "Sudeten Germans" made loud outcries before being united with Germany. How they will feel under Nazi rule is a question for time to tell.
Edward Benes became president after Masaryk gave up his office. The fact that Czechs and Slovaks have worked together at almost all times shows there was good reason for them to unite in forming a nation.

America Must be Kept Out of War, Sen. Duffy Says

Candidate for Reelection Reviews Work of Administration

New London—“We want to keep America out of any war abroad and we don't want to become involved in any European entanglements or alliances,” Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Democratic candidate for reelection and a member of the senate's foreign relations committee, told a gathering of several hundred persons in a campaign speech at Tatt's park here yesterday afternoon.

“However, we know the danger of ‘peace at any price’ and have voted, and will continue to vote, for an adequate national defense for safeguarding this country against any possible foreign attack. While our forces may be smaller, I believe our men and equipment are the best in the world,” the senator stated.

Last year, when he was abroad to dedicate American monuments in France and Belgium, Duffy said he took occasion to tell those foreign citizens, speaking personally, that American boys will never fight overseas again.

Outlines Stand

The senator reviewed the reconstruction work of the present administration since 1932. “The administration believes that the welfare of the people is the social responsibility of the government, in direct contrast to the former administration which believed that it was not the function or the duty of the government to assist people in distress,” the speaker declared.

Senator Duffy pointed out the establishment of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation providing stability for the banks, the Home Owners Loan corporation which extended more than 116,000 loans amounting to $153,020,504 to Wisconsin farmers, the popularity of the Civilian Conservation Corps which has enrolled about 52,000 Wisconsin boys with 4,000 still serving, and the Reconstruction Finance corporation which loaned $106,000,000 to Wisconsin industries.

As to the PWA, Senator Duffy pointed to the hundreds of new public buildings which have been erected, including a great many public schools that were necessary.

Other Democratic candidates heard over the loudspeaker were District Attorney A. J. Aschenbrenner of Stevens Point, running for state senator, and Otto R. Schwantes, Clintonville, candidate for state assembly. Aschenbrenner promised a greater market for Wisconsin's sand grown potatoes and its cheese. Schwantes, a dairyman, said he would work for the enforcement of the oleo tax to protect and foster Wisconsin butter.

Union Is Seeking Answer on Strike Undertakes Negotiations With Edison Office At Orange, N. J.

New London—Negotiations in the controversy over the status of two foremen at the Edison Wood Products plant here were undertaken directly with the main office of the Thomas A. Edison industries at Orange, N. J., yesterday according to E. M. Griswold, president of the Furniture Workers local 1642 which is conducting the walkout that began Monday morning.

The local will be assisted in the negotiations by the Wisconsin State Council of Carpenters and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, American Federation of Labor union under which the local is chartered.

A picketing schedule was set up by the Furniture Workers at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Two shifts of eight men each will watch the plant from 7 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the afternoon each day except Sunday. Dry kilns and other machinery in the plant will be maintained and every effort will be made by the union to preserve the property, Griswold said. Watchmen have been warned to watch for possible vandalism by cranks, he said.

The arrangement of picket schedules will require the services of each man but one shift a week, permitting strikers to work at odd jobs in the meantime, Griswold said. Labor hall has been designated as strike headquarters and regular union meetings will be held at the hall at 2 o'clock every afternoon for the duration of the walkout.

A float in the high school homecoming next week and has begun work on the project.
